SOME OF 'K' POLICIES TO REMAIN

Red China Explodes First Atomic Bomb

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced it exploded its first atomic bomb in the western region of China at 3 p.m. today.
Radio Peking announced the test was a success.
It was the explosive result of a long drive by Mao Tse-tung's Red regime to join the world's nuclear club.
The announcement was made in a broadcast by the official New China News Agency at 11 p.m.—10 a.m. EST.
It did not immediately say whether the test was held in the atmosphere or underground.
U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk forecast Sept. 29 that the Communist Chinese might soon explode their first test device.
He said then:
"For some time it has been known that the Chinese Communists were approaching the point where they might be able to detonate a first nuclear device. Such an explosion might occur in the near future."
The Russians extended technical aid to China for a time, then dropped it in the rising difficulties between Peking and Moscow.
The broadcast account said:
"The success of China's nuclear test is a major achievement of the Chinese people in the strengthening of their national defense and safeguarding of their motherland, as well as a major contribution made by the Chinese people to the cause of the defense of world peace."
"The success of this test was due to the hard work and the great coordinated effort of China's workers, engineering and technical personnel, scientific personnel and all working personnel engaged in building up China's national defenses as well as various regions and departments throughout the country who, under the leadership of the party, displayed a spirit of relying on their own efforts and making enterprising endeavors."
"The central committee of the Chinese Communist party and the state council warmly congratulate them."

Brezhnev Takes Key Position In Soviet Shakeup

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — With Nikita Khrushchev toppled from power and pushed into obscurity, the new leaders of the Soviet Union sought today to reassure the people that de-Stalinization and economic improvements will continue.
This was the first policy indication given by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the beefy, brooding protégé of Khrushchev who emerged from a secret Communist party meeting as the party's first secretary — the top job here. It was contained in a statement in the party paper Pravda.
Alexei N. Kosygin, a weary looking administrator, became premier in changes announced early today.
A number of Khrushchev aides were reported by reliable informants to have lost their jobs also. Most prominently named in these unconfirmed reports was his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the government paper Izvestia. Pavel Satukov, editor of Pravda, also was reported to have quit.
The mystery long associated with the Red brick walls of the Kremlin was wrapped about the Khrushchev departure. There was no explanation for the 227 million Russian people of what had become of the man who led them for almost a decade, or why he had been dropped by the wayside.
The Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, published a front-page statement that the party "firmly and consistently carries into life the Leninist general line worked out at the 20th and 22nd congresses of the party."
Khrushchev delivered his famous speech against Stalinism at the 20th congress in 1956. The 22nd congress five years later set long-term goals of improved economic conditions and the attainment of communism. Any attempt to drop these policies would probably meet strong popular resistance, many diplomats in Moscow believe.
The rest of the world waited to find out how the changeover would affect the Soviet Union's foreign policy.
There was general belief that Khrushchev's departure would open the way to at least a measure of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China. For the past year Peking has hammered at the theme that Khrushchev stood as a personal obstacle to a rapprochement.

Legislature Ordered To Redistrict

U.S. Court Declares 1903 Hanna Law Unconstitutional

CINCINNATI (AP) — U. S. District Court has ordered the 1965 session of the Ohio General Assembly to provide for reapportionment of the House of Representatives.

A three-judge panel Thursday declared unconstitutional the Hanna Amendment to the state constitution, which gives each of the 88 counties at least one member in the House regardless of population.

In throwing out the 1903 Hanna amendment, the court said:

"If the General Assembly fails to take appropriate action as herein provided in time for submission of a constitutional amendment to a vote of the people in 1965, this court will provide such remedies as it may consider appropriate to meet the requirements of the Constitution of the United States."

The three-judge panel was the same one in 1962 which upheld the constitutionality of the amendment. But that opinion was reversed last June 22 by the U. S. Supreme Court, which ordered the special court to reconsider the complaints.

The suits were filed in 1962 by James D. Nolan of Cleveland and the Cincinnati City Charter Committee and later consolidated.

Kenneth Weinberg, an attorney for the plaintiffs, said the apportionment provisions of the 1851 Ohio constitution would meet the requirements set up by the U. S. Supreme Court. Article 11 of the Constitution calls for a mathematical formula in determining representation.
The 1851 formula was "good and fair," Weinberg said, but had been "subverted by the Hanna Amendment . . . (which) denied the people of Ohio fair and equal representation in the House of Representatives."

Keane Resigns Post As Cards' Manager

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Johnny Keane resigned as manager of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, the Associated Press learned today.

In a letter which was to be handed to August Busch, president of the Cardinals, and written Sept. 28, Keane said:

"This is to submit my resignation as field manager of the St. Louis Cardinals effective as of the last championship National League game, whether it be the end of the regular season or at the end of the World Series."

Driver Penalized $23 For Old Parking Tags

Robert W. Camerlin of Cannons Mills Rd. was penalized a total of $23.50 today in Municipal Court on a charge he ignored four old parking tickets.

Camerlin, who pleaded guilty, was fined $16, plus $7.50 costs, by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.
He was named in an affidavit signed by "Meter Maid" Leah Kelley alleging he ignored a citation for overtime parking issued on E. 5th St. April 25, 1963. Attached to the affidavit were three more tickets for which the penalty was unpaid.

'FBI Will Report To Me, People,' Johnson Says In Jenkins Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he had no information on Walter W. Jenkins that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his top aide before Jenkins' two arrests on morals charges became public.

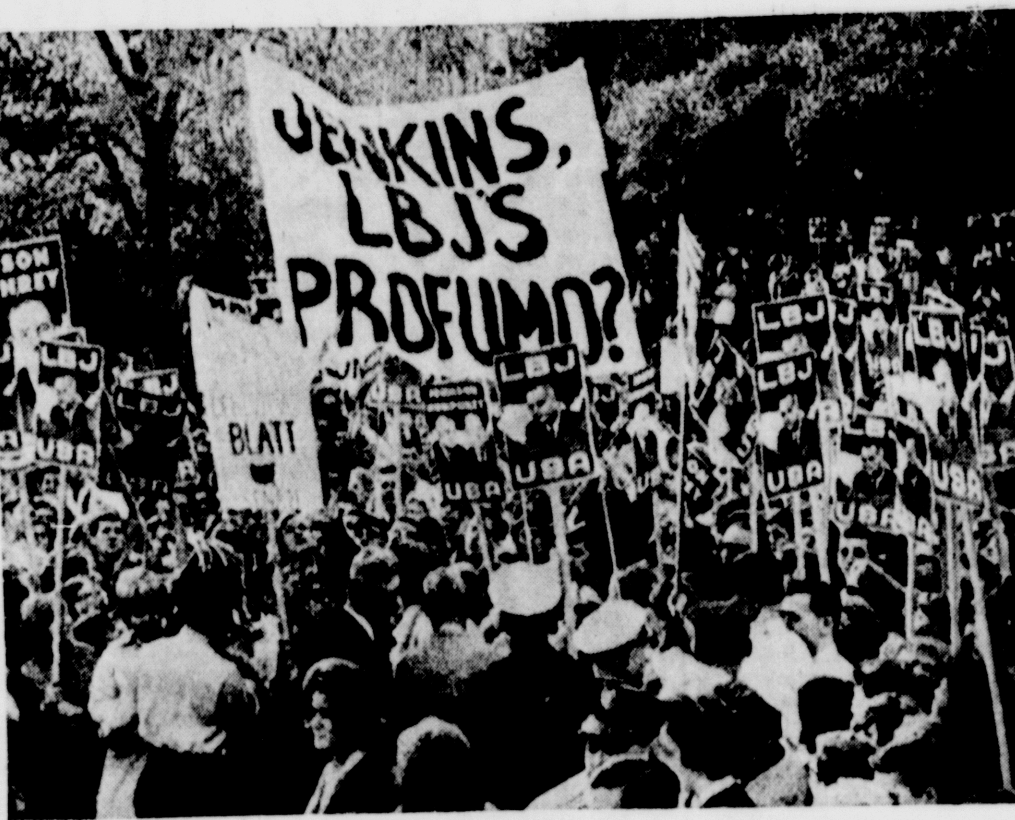

But, the President said in a statement Thursday night, once he was told Wednesday of the arrests — one of them in 1959 and the other last week — he asked Jenkins to resign. Jenkins promptly did so.

"No man I know has given more personal dedication, devotion and tireless labor," Johnson said of his aide for 25 years.
But he added: "On this case as on any such case, the public interest comes before all personal feeling."

The President said: "Within moments after being notified last night, I ordered Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI to make an immediate and comprehensive inquiry and report promptly to me and the American people."

Today the Washington Post reported it had learned the police forwarded data on Jenkins' 1959 arrest to the FBI that year and that in April 1961 this data, including a copy of his fingerprints record, was forwarded to the Secret Service, which had requested the information.

What the Secret Service did with the data is shrouded in secrecy, the Post said. Neither the FBI nor the Secret Service would comment immediately. At the time Johnson was vice president and Jenkins was his administrative assistant.

Johnson's statement, heavy with compassion for 46-year-old Jenkins, his wife and six children, one of whom was named "Lyndon" after the President, was distributed to newsmen when they returned with the President from his New York campaign trip.

In effect, it was a reply to Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who earlier in the day had accused the President of covering up for Jenkins after the first arrest.

And it followed by several hours a sympathetic statement by Mrs. Johnson, who described Jenkins as a man who "reached the end point of exhaustion in dedicated service to his country." She said the Johnsons were praying for his recovery.

Due At Dinner Oct. 28

Idaho's Gov. R. E. Smylie To Be County GOP Guest

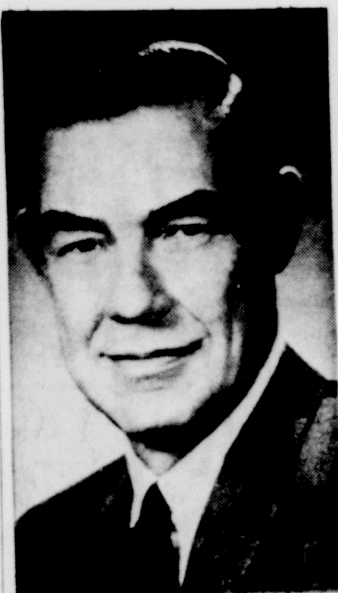

LISBON — Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho will be principal speaker for the annual Columbiana County Republican dinner Oct. 28 at Beaver Local High School.

Gov. Smylie is the nation's senior governor and is chairman of the National Republican Governors' Association. He was first elected governor in 1954 and is the first in the history of the state to win a third four-year term.

Before entering politics, Gov. Smylie studied pre-law at the College of Idaho and received his law degree from George Washington University. During World War II he served as an officer in the Coast Guard and saw action in the Atlantic, European and Pacific theaters. Since the war, he has traveled in Japan, Russia and South America.

Gov. Smylie headed Idaho's delegation to the Republican National convention in San Francisco in July and his delegation consisted of 14 votes instructed to support Sen. Goldwater's nomination.

night. "I'm very happy about it, not to be sitting behind bars," said Mrs. Sokolov.

The couple had spent more than a year in jail after their arrest in Washington, D.C. On the fifth day of the trial here, the prosecution dropped the charges for "national security" reasons.

They waived deportation hearings.

Council Eyes W. 5th Lot As Metered Site

Council is scheduled to act Monday night on legislation that would clear the way for a $36,000 purchase of property on the south side of W. 5th St. near Jackson St. to establish a sixth metered municipal parking lot.

The two ordinances would authorize Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to sign a contract for residential property owned by the estate of Miss Hazel B. Laughlin, raze the buildings, level and surface the lot and install parking meters.

The property is immediately east of the Medical Arts Building occupied by Dr. William Banfield and Dr. H. F. Banfield. It fronts 60 feet on W. 5th and extends 130 feet south to Drury Ln.

The tract is expected to provide space for about 30 autos. One ordinance calls for a $40,000 bond issue to cover the cost of the purchase and to provide additional funds for preparation of the site.

It provides the bonds would be retired out of revenue from the parking operation. The bonds would be retired in substantially equal annual installments in the 10 years between 1965 and 1975, inclusive, the legislation provides.

Similar financing arrangements have been used to acquire and amortize other municipal parking lots.

If the Laughlin property is acquired, it would become the sixth metered city lot.

The first was established on

Agreement Reached By UAW, AMC

Accord On Profit Sharing Comes Too Late To Nip Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Profit sharing — unique in the auto industry — will be carried forward by a new American Motors Corp. and United Auto Workers agreement. But this accord was reached too late today to avert a strike at the firm.

Negotiators removed profit sharing as a main stumbling block to a new national labor contract at AMC an hour after a UAW-set midnight strike deadline. Pickets began parading in front of AMC's Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., auto plants even while harmony was being attained on what AMC has preferred to call "progress sharing."

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman and Douglas A. Fraser, the UAW's American Motors chief, announced the agreement today that profit sharing — now three years old at AMC — will again be extended to the firm's 27,000 UAW-represented workers.

Cushman and Fraser declined to reveal details of the profit-sharing agreement. These will be disclosed later, Fraser said.

Just a day earlier, the UAW's 52-member negotiating committee voted continuance of profit sharing was a "strikeable issue."

Profit sharing had been worth six cents hourly per worker since the UAW won the plan at AMC in 1961, Fraser said.

In reporting the agreement on profit sharing, Cushman said "unfortunately American Motors operations already had been shut down."

A major obstacle now to completion of the national economic contract agreement, Fraser and Cushman said, involves some 3,000 Kelvinator division employees at Grand Rapids, Mich.

American Motors is the fourth and last of the American auto makers with which the UAW has to complete agreement on new national contracts. Contracts were settled on the national level with General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Cole Porter, Noted Song Composer, Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Cole Porter, one of the 20th century's great composers and lyricists, died Thursday night at a Santa Monica hospital where he underwent kidney surgery Oct. 13. He was 71.

Doctors said Porter "simply stopped breathing." They did not give an official cause of death but said Porter's general physical condition even before he was admitted to the hospital Sept. 22 for a routine checkup was poor.

An infection from a kidney stone flared up after he was admitted, necessitating the surgery.

Young And Taft Agree On Televised Debates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It looks like the Democratic and Republican candidates for the U. S. Senate from Ohio are finally getting together on scheduling televised debates.

Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young and Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. agreed Thursday to a series of debates around the state, with more expected to be scheduled soon.

Auditor Hits Wellsville

'Loose Handling' Of Funds Found

Failure to collect pinball machine license fees and delay in making deposits of mayor's office funds were cited in a state examiner's audit report for the City of Wellsville released today by State Auditor Roger Tracy at Columbus.

"Loose handling of fiscal affairs" described the city's financial operation in the report, which covered the period from Jan. 1, 1963, to May 31, 1964.

BECAUSE of the laxity in the handling of funds, a finding for $161 was made against Mayor William W. Daugherty for underdeposit of money paid into his office.

A finding of $10 was also made against Police Chief John Hephner for underdeposit of traffic fines, and an adjustment of $109 against the city for the Columbiana County Law Library was made for failure to pay half its share of Highway Patrol fines to the library.

The laxity in collection of pinball license fees stemmed from two city ordinances — one requiring pinball machine operators to secure a $1,200 license for up to 12 machines and $120 a year for each additional machine.

The other ordinance requires exhibitors to pay a fee of $120 a year for each machine.

THE EXAMINER said records showed that during the 17-month period of the audit, the city collected only $480, all paid by Robert Logan, who identified himself as owner of the "Fourth St. Pool Room."

In an affidavit furnished the examiner, Logan stated that to his knowledge, "No other monies for pinball machine licenses have been paid to the City of Wellsville through the mayor or any other person by

Francis Grimm

Francis I. Grimm, 56, of Salem, former Wellsville resident, was found dead in his car in the garage of his home Thursday morning.

Mr. Grimm died of carbon monoxide fumes, and Dr. William Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner, said he had taken his own life, probably Tuesday. He was a press operator for the Hunt Valve Co. of Salem and worked last Oct. 9.

He was born May 6, 1908, at Mateer, Pa., to the late William Grimm and Mary Sattes Grimm and spent the earlier part of his life in Wellsville. For some years he resided in Monroe, Mich., where he worked in steel mills. He lived in Lisbon for 14 years before moving to Salem 10 years ago. He attended the First Christian Church of Salem.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Rohrbaugh Grimm, and a son, Thomas E. Grimm, both of Salem; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Frances Hirst of Leetonia R. D., and Miss Dalene Grimm and Miss Gaynelle Grimm, both at home; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth McElroy of Wellsville R. D. and Mrs. Rachael Hadley of East Liverpool; four brothers, George Grimm of Chester, Paul Grimm of Struthers, Carl Grimm of Phoenix, Ariz., and Clark Grimm of East Liverpool, and five grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Harold Deitch. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and tonight.

Floyd M. Hull
LISBON — Floyd McQuilkin

Hull of Lisbon R. D. 1, a retired farmer, died this morning at 2:45 at Salem City Hospital, where he had been a patient for 10 weeks. He was 74.

Born Oct. 24, 1889, in Franklin Township, to Ruben William Hull and Mary Agnes McQuilkin Hull, he farmed his entire life, retiring in 1960.

He was a member of the New Lebanon United Presbyterian Church and the Pleasant Valley Grange.

He was married to Julia Ann McPherson Dec. 30, 1919.

Besides his widow at home, he is survived by four sons, Floyd Hull Jr. of Alliance, Roy Hull of Painesville, Charles Hull of Salem and Clem Hull at home and 11 grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Frank Hare. Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery, Salineville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mary Longanecker

Mrs. Mary Ellen Longanecker, 88, of Negley, died Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Ohio Valley Nursing Home where she had been a patient three years.

She was born at Millport Dec. 2, 1876, to Mr. and Mrs. James Jefferson. Formerly of Minerva, she moved to Negley about 12 years ago. She leaves a son, Wilbur Falk of Negley.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Warrick Funeral Home in Columbiana by Robert Dyke of East Palestine, minister of a Pennsylvania Christian Church. Burial will be in Mt. Zion Cemetery, Negley.

Friends may call at the funeral home today and tonight.

Motorist, 21,
Loses Permit

Richard Eugene Sell, 21, of 708 Wood St., Wellsville, lost his operator's permit for 20 days and also was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a speeding charge today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Sell was cited Oct. 5 at 10:30 p.m. on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super - road" by the State Highway Patrol. Queried by the court, he blamed inattention for the violation.

Lecturing Sell, the court pointed out 25 persons already have been killed on Columbiana County highways in 1964.

"Sooner or later you will learn that speed will get you nowhere," he said.

Arlie Shiria Anderson, 19, of 1010 Waterloo St. was fined $10 and costs on each of two charges — driving without an operator's permit and improper registration.

Anderson was cited Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. on Route 7 by the patrol. He was accused of failure to transfer the license plates from a 1949 car he formerly owned to a 1955 model he bought two weeks ago. He also was accused of driving alone on a temporary permit. He pleaded guilty to both.

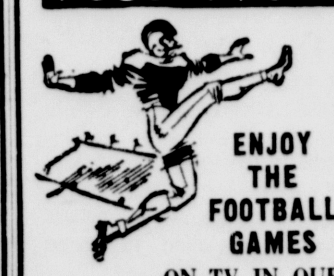

Anderson told the court he expects to take a driver's license exam Wednesday and may transfer the registration on his auto today. He was told to report to the court Oct. 23 with his new driver's license and to produce proof of the registration transfer tomorrow.

Joseph Allen Heiney, 36, of 422 14th St., Wellsville, is due for a hearing Monday morning on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Thursday night at 8:40 on the "super - road."

between the rival Communist giants. Red China's boss, Mao Tze-tung and his top aides made clear that peace was out of the question as long as Khrushchev spoke for Soviet communism.

But any reconciliation with Peking could also require a common policy toward the West. This would probably mean an end to Khrushchev's era of peaceful coexistence, not necessarily leading to armed confrontation but at least increasing tensions and military budgets.

Political experts in Vienna said Khrushchev's eclipse was bound to suspend at least the liberalization drive which has been going on in Communist Eastern Europe. A Moscow-Peking reconciliation would certainly curtail the measures of independence won by some Soviet satellites, they said.

The world was stunned by the cryptic announcement just after midnight that Khrushchev, 70, had asked to be relieved as first secretary of the party and premier because of "advanced age and deterioration of his health." The ebullient, round leader had shown no particular signs of ill health lately, but he suffers from high blood pressure and a recurrent heart condition.

Observers in the West believed that repercussions from the bitter feud between Moscow and Peking and shortcomings in the Soviet economy also played a part in the colorful leader's sudden eclipse after 10 years in power.

The official announcement gave no indication what had happened to Khrushchev, last reported vacationing on the Black Sea. But it said he had lost his place on the party presidium, indicating he would have no future role in Soviet policy.

This was a strong indication that Khrushchev had not retired voluntarily or been stricken ill. As a voluntarily retired elder statesman, Khrushchev might have been expected to remain on the presidium. And Frol Kozlov, widely regarded as Khrushchev's chosen successor until felled by a stroke and heart attacks last year still is on the presidium and a party secretary although inactive.

Brezhnev's designation to the key role of the party's first secretary was the least surprising thing in the announcement.

He had long been a protégé of Khrushchev and had generally been considered his heir apparent since he gave up the figurehead post of president of the Soviet Union on July 15 to devote himself to the party central committee.

Kosygin is an economic expert of exceptional talent with a flair for organization. His appointment as premier appeared to signal a determined drive to improve the economic situation and governmental efficiency.

Palestine To Get
Automatic Gates
For 3 Crossings

EAST PALESTINE — The Public Utilities Commission has received an application from the Pennsylvania Railroad for installation of automatic crossing gates at all three crossings here.

Total cost of the proposed project is $110,000, to be paid by the railroad and partly by highway funds.

Council has approved the railroad's plans for the automatic gates at the crossings at N. Main St., James St. and State Line Rd.

Some federal aid will be available for the Main St. crossing because it serves State Route 170, a spokesman said.

The crossings, especially that at N. Main St., have been the scene of numerous traffic crashes with trains, many with loss of life.

The railroad will undertake installation of a new roadbed at the N. Main St. crossing next week, with traffic expected to be detoured for at least four days.

New Team In The Kremlin

The bad habit of personifying the Soviet Union according to its premier necessities getting acquainted with Alexei Kosygin on short notice.

The man who has been first deputy premier of the Soviet Union and now is premier will be backed up in the Communist hierarchy by Leonid I. Brezhnev as first secretary of the Communist party.

The first secretaryship is regarded as the position of real power in the Soviet political power complex. It was the position held by Nikita Khrushchev when Nikolai Bulganin was named premier in February 1955, to succeed Georgi Jalenkov, who had taken the place of Joseph Stalin in March 1953.

In March 1958, Khrushchev, who had overshadowed Bulganin, became premier as well as first secretary of the party. The dual office established his position beyond any question.

This was not possible without a certain amount of political harshness, but it is of major significance that the elevation of a new leader comparable in power to the power wielded by Stalin had been carried out without bloodshed.

THIS WAS REGARDED as the beginning of a new pattern in Russian internal politics and construed as a sign that the once tempestuous organization of the Russian Communist party under Stalin had been stabilized.

Further evidence of stabilization had been found in the last few years in Premier Khrushchev's repeated references to the time when he would step down and be succeeded by a younger man.

Both Kosygin and Brezhnev are younger, the former being 60 and the latter 57. But the focus of world interest will rest on Brezhnev, with reference to the probability that a transitional method which worked once will be tried again and Kosygin will be premier only until the time is ripe for Brezhnev to take both the premiership and party secretaryship.

If this proves to be the procedure, it will be a reminder that the Soviet Union as a major power is confronted with the same problem that confronts the United States in the exercise of its international leadership.

It is desirable to have two men of stature at the head of the government, to assure continuity of policy. When Bulganin and Khrushchev stood together, even though Khrushchev loomed larger, there was a division of responsibility.

WHEN PRESIDENT Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon worked together, there was a partnership, as there was when President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson were in office.

Though the change of the guard in the Kremlin is still clouded as to the cause—whether Khrushchev finally has retired or he has been talking about doing so or whether there has been an emergency—the meaning of the change seems clear.

The Soviet Union has chosen new leadership.

The job is done there by a handful of political associates in the presidium.

The job is going to be done here in a few weeks by millions of citizens marking ballots to show their choice between Lyndon Baines Johnson and Barry M. Goldwater, the nominees of the Democratic and Republican parties.

What is happening here is probably as clouded to a Russian eye as what is happening in Moscow.

Study In Order

Until Mayor Merrill Hall expands Monday night on his reasons for doing so, all we know about his veto of the television cable service legislation enacted by Council is what "we read in the papers."

But the fact that he has received a proposal from another firm—this one from Ohio—with promise of a franchise fee to the city and a lower charge to customers seems to be a logical reason for his request that Council study the matter further.

We feel Council should do just that. There's nothing to be lost by a slight delay. And, quite possibly, additional benefits may result, both to the city and to the customers who will be using the proposed TV facilities.

It Won't Be Like TV

Chief Justice Warren has called a special session of the Judicial Conference of the United States for next Jan. 13 to discuss a significant problem.

In the Criminal Justice Act of 1964, Congress provided funds for the first time to defend the indigent in federal courts. The Judicial Conference of the United States represents all the federal courts that will be responsible for administering the funds. The problem is how to do this to maximum advantage.

One thing is certain.

Indigents who must be defended with public funds will not be like the down-and-outers defended in court actions portrayed by actors in television plays. The script for both TV and the stage has been standardized.

The down - and - outers always gets a shrewd lawyer who cuts opposing counsel to ribbons in the courtroom. This always comes about because the TV lawyers who defend down-and-outers are the ablest members of the bar and defend the indigent as a labor of professional love—something like a doctor with a thumping big practice giving his best skill to charity patients.

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Hope you are squared away for a long hard winter after your vacation and we are the same. Squared away, that is.

We have our Thanksgiving turkey in the freezer and are pecking away at our Christmas shopping. Like the merchants starting their Christmas selling early, we are starting our buying likewise.

Your Aunt Effie never stops doing her Christmas shopping. I have known her to buy things for a whole Christmas ahead when she found something she liked. She has a cupboard where she keeps a surplus gift supply. She can dig in there for any occasion and come up with a "gift shoppe gift."

You are wondering what we intend to do about the national election, which comes before everything else. It's like this.

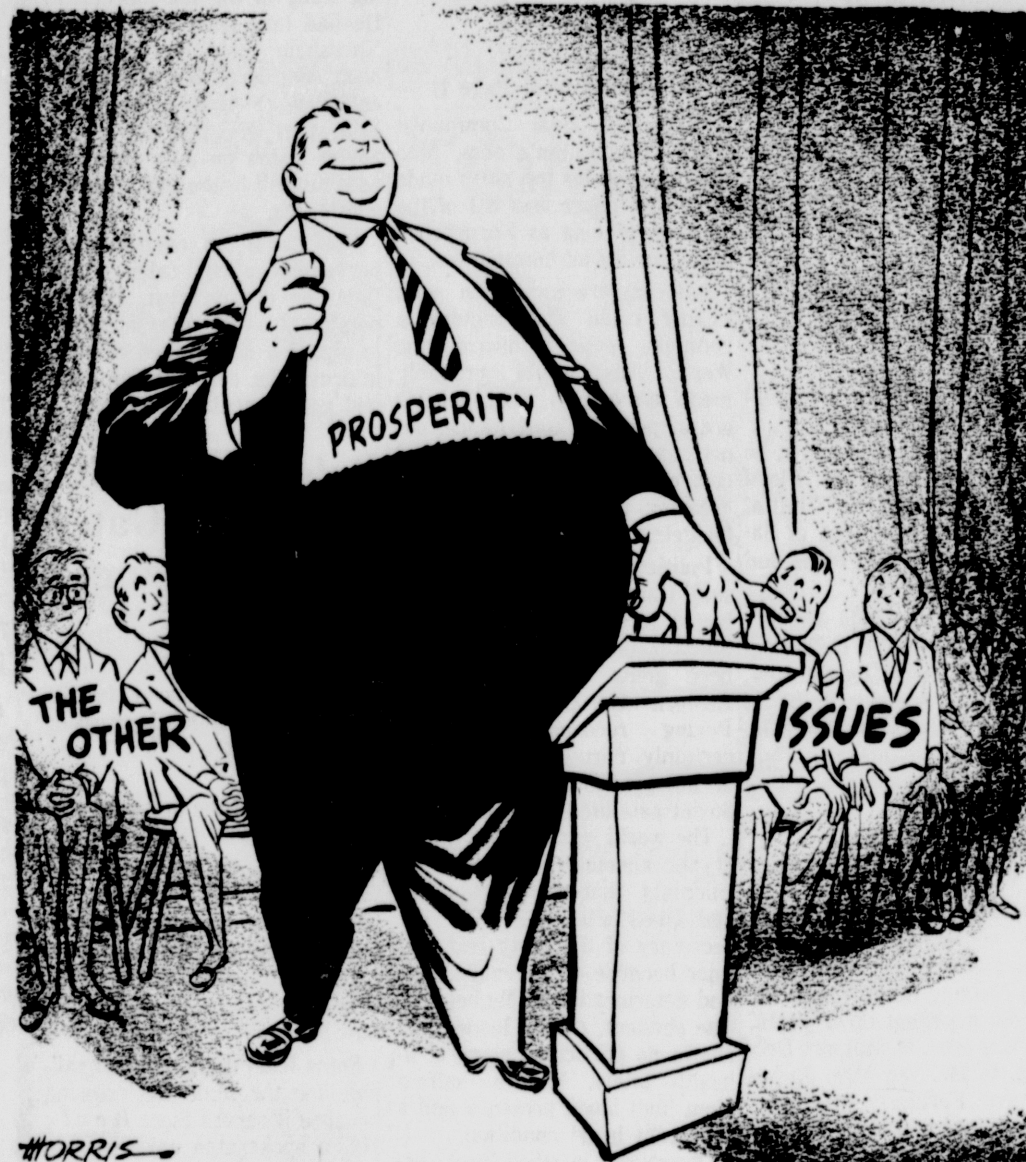

THE ELECTION is over, as far as we are concerned. We have gone through the required exercises and all that remains is for us to cast our votes. We have made up our minds.

Whatever happens — and we think we know what will happen in the contests we are interested in — and we will accept the outcome and go on from there. This is what we have been doing all our voting lives. Some of you younger people would be surprised to know how well it works.

Our neighbors thought the sky had fallen in 1932 when Franklin Roosevelt proved the Literary Digest had been talking to the wrong people about Herbert Hoover. We remember how disconsolate the same people were in 1936 when the sky fell again. They survived what they were sure was the end of the world.

We aren't even interested in the dirtiness of the 1964 campaign, which we find to be no more slanderous than any other campaign. It is the American way of politics to make every candidate look like a scoundrel.

Still A Big Man On The Platform

Biggest Building Joins Space Drive

By Victor Riesel

Those of us who have been down to Moonport, U.S.A., on Marritt Island, Fla., know that our scientists count on something called VAB to help close the space lead the three - man Voskhod has given the Soviets.

Unfortunately VAB — a monstrous all - weather Vertical Assembly Building which eventually will house four moon and star bound rockets — is but one third built.

When this mysterious man-made mountain of steel and masonry is completed it will be the world's largest building, almost as high as the Washington Monument and as large as the Pentagon and the Chicago Merchandise Mart combined.

It will stand against the howling of a 125-mile-an-hour hurricane so our scientists can disdain the weather, for they will no longer assemble the space rockets out in the open at the launch pads.

IT'S ALL BEEN very hush-hush, but now the hundreds of construction workers have been spreading the news and some of their union journals will be discussing the unique venture. So the time has come to tell the public about VAB.

At first the going was slow. During the year preceding June 1, 1964, there were strikes which cost the Cape Kennedy — Merritt Island complex 25,862 working man days.

These were stoppages resulting from arguments over union contracts and walkouts springing from feuds between local unions and between union and non-union contractors. But to the credit of the national leaders of the Building and Construction Trades Council unions and the Missile Sites Labor Commission, made up of labor and management people, that black era ended.

Now there is peace and cooperation — not only at VAB but at the many sites such as Huntsville and the Mississippi Testing Facility at Pearl River.

THESE BASES all feed into VAB, which will be the world's biggest building because its interior will, in effect, be one huge room, 52 stories high rising from a 7½-acre floor.

Though 1,400 skilled union craftsmen work on it daily, because of the labor-management cooperation there has not been a single fatality or serious accident. Before men are sent in to build new parts of the structure, the proposed sections are built in mocked-up model size and studied by union and company officials for danger spots.

When VAB is finished it will have 24 high speed elevators to rush rocket crews and mechanics to their capsules and stations. There will be enough air conditioning to care for 3,000 ordinary homes.

Inside there will be two 500,000 pound - capacity bridge cranes for maneuvering the biggest imaginable sections of huge rockets into their proper positions.

There will be four "folding doors" on the highest section of the $85 million building which will provide openings at the floor level of 152 feet and at a height of 456 feet. The moon and star-bound vehicles will be moved through these doors to a launching site in true space fiction style.

THE ROCKETS will be assembled on a platform called LUT-Launcher Umbilical Tower. When the craft is ready to take off and the crews have manned the tip capsule, four sets of electrically-driven crawler tracks — each nearly six feet wide — will move in under LUT. The tracts will jack up their arms, lift the rocket and platform and move this assembly out of the building.

The whole load will weigh 17.5 million pounds and will move no more than a mile an hour along the 3½ mile crawlerway. The crawler will then lower its load onto new types of monumental launching pads and move off as crews move in to prepare the rocket for firing.

VAB is just one of the units in the complex which must be built at a pace so steady, so uninterrupted, that the scientists' deadline for U.S. space supremacy is met.

Unless there is continued labor-management cooperation we may find more truth than just in Dr. Werner Von Braun's bitter quip: "It may take us only 24 hours to get to the moon but 48 hours to get through Russian customs there."

Khrushchev's Attitude

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON "I'm not afraid of the devil," Premier Khrushchev said in 1959, trying to quell an American labor leader. "And you're a man." This was more than a retort.

Khrushchev was expressing his attitude toward the world, as he showed many times. But it wasn't always true. He had been Joseph Stalin's passive vassal until the old tyrant died in 1953.

Then Khrushchev became the Russian boss and his own man. He asserted himself in a four-hour speech denouncing Stalin as a murderer, monster and mental case. He repudiated the "cult of the individual" and one-man rule.

With this speech Khrushchev began the liberalization of Russia. He led it out of the dark ages. The power of the secret police was diminished. The Russian people had a new sense of life.

And later, when he preached "peaceful co-existence" with the capitalist world, the West, while remaining suspicious, sighed with relief. But with the speech and the new policy the Communist world became unstuck.

Everywhere Communist parties had to ask themselves: How could they explain, in view of the revelations about Stalin, their own long subservience to Russia's wants and wishes and the myth of Soviet infallibility?

Around the world Communist parties for the first time began to show some independence of Russia. Eventually the two giant neighbors, Red China and Russia, not only split but appear to be in deadly rivalry.

Perhaps all this means the triumph of nationalism over communism, as might have been predicted. But to Chinese protests that war and revolution are steps forward, Khrushchev asked: "Forward to what? The grave?"

He said "prosperity is the only thing worth fighting for." He ridiculed the Chinese, saying they preferred "revolution" to "goulash." Unless the splits are healed and unity restored world communism may disintegrate.

Now, after 10 years in Stalin's seat, Khrushchev has been retired. Moscow announced it Thursday night. The reason given was poor health and age. Khrushchev is 70.

But Moscow said his policies of destalinization and economic improvement would be continued under the new leadership. In 1964 Khrushchev launched a 20-year Russian development program unmatched in scope since Lenin's in 1919.

Khrushchev's two top proteges take over: Leonid Brezhnev, 57, as Communist party secretary, and Alexei Kosygin, 60, as Premier. Perhaps the Moscow statement and these two appointments truly mean continuity.

But at this moment in history there is only one honest thing that any interpreter of events can say about the meaning of this end to Khrushchev's career: "I don't know."

The Price Of Peace

By David Lawrence

Non-Nuclear War Speculated

The so-called "peace issue" in the presidential campaign is not which presidential candidate wants peace — for they both do — but what policy is likely to bring on or avert war.

The true issue is the danger of war in the next few years. It will not come because a David Lawrence American president wants to use nuclear weapons. Indeed, nuclear weapons are so suicidal today that neither side will dare to use them anyway.

The nuclear war scare injected into the presidential campaign is a specious gimmick and a reckless tactic which could result in a miscalculation of the American position and increase the danger of war.

For several years now, many military men have written off the prospect of a nuclear war but have insisted that not enough thought has been or is being given to the prospect of a major war that would be non-nuclear.

This is what is called conventional or limited war. Yet death is no different for the individual soldier whether it comes on the battlefield or is the result of a nuclear explosion.

TENS OF THOUSANDS of Americans, if not hundreds of thousands, could lose their lives in another limited war such as was fought in Korea where, incidentally, no nuclear weapons were used. It lasted three years, and that war might have been prevented by an unequivocal expression of policy as a substitute for the ambiguity about our intentions which prevailed before the Communist decision to invade South Korea in 1950.

If American policy is fuzzy once more, a non-nuclear war could emerge in the next four years out of the situation in Berlin as well as in Viet Nam.

What brings on a war? Just an isolated act of aggression or a series of aggressions that go unrepelled? It's the latter which brought on World War I and World War II, respectively.

The big question before the American people and the peoples of Western Europe today is how best to prevent a major war.

Can this be done by "accommodation" with the enemy, which is a synonym for the process of appeasement? The image of America as a vacillating government is widespread in Europe. The anti-Goldwater sentiment is substantial abroad because of a belief that the Republican nominee would not indulge in "accommodation," and would manifest a resolute attitude. This is scorned as "brinkmanship."

Yet the late John Foster Dulles — the practitioner of such a policy — kept America out of a major war by letting it be known that the United States would not hesitate to "go to the brink," if necessary.

BUT "BRINKSMANSHIP" was scoffed at by the professional diplomats and devotees of the school of thought which believes in parleying indefinitely with an untrustworthy and treacherous enemy. Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain tried this at Munich in 1938, and a year later Europe was engulfed in a world war.

The Soviet Union at the moment is engaged in ideological warfare with Red China, but if a military crisis arises, the Communist regime in Peking would certainly be allied with Moscow.

The penetration of Southeast Asia by the Red Chinese has the secret approval of the Soviets, who could stop the Viet Nam war any time they wished. It's grist for their mill, just as infiltration and subversive activities in Latin America have been ever since a Soviet military base was established in Cuba.

The administration policy seems to favor accommodation and negotiation with Moscow, but not a single concession of military importance has been obtained in that way from the Soviets since World War II ended.

The Communists, indeed, have widened, rather than narrowed, their efforts to thwart free governments in all parts of the world.

SEN. GOLDWATER says he favors a policy that shows strength. He doesn't believe in tactics of bluster but he does advocate such a clear exposition of policy that it cannot be misconstrued as appeasement. In this connection, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in his address to a joint session of Congress on April 19, 1951, said:

"For history teaches, with unmistakable emphasis, that appeasement but begets new and bloodier war. It points to no single instance where this end has justified that means, where appeasement has led to more than a sham peace. Like blackmail, it lays the basis for new and successively greater demands until, as in blackmail, violence becomes the only other alternative."

The old reply is, however, being heard — that peace at almost any price is necessary as an alternative to nuclear war. The basic question today is how to prevent — indeed to face up to — a non-nuclear war which, if lost by the West, could give Communist imperialism its biggest triumph.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Miss Roberta Elliott and Miss Kathleen Jackman of Pine Grove attended the North - East Ohio Methodist conference at Elyria. A Junior Safety Patrol was organized at the 4th St. School in Newell, with Jerry McElowney and Glenn Harpold in charge.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Byron Allison of Railroad St., Chester, was promoted to corporal at Ft. Riley, Tex.

The 20th anniversary of the Esther Bible Club was observed at Mary Patterson Memorial. Miss Helen Mountford, president, greeted the guests.

The Rev. Henry C. Douglass, former pastor of the Second Christian Church of East Liverpool, assumed his duties as pastor of the Christian Church at Irondale.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Martha Troop of near New Cumberland, leader of the Seneca 4-H Club, was elected president of Hancock County 4-H leaders.

The Trumpetts, a new card club, was organized at the home of Mrs. Ruth Jean Hammond of Globe St.

Mrs. Ira Babb received a gift for her 13 years' service as secretary and reporter for the Good Neighbor Society.

New Setting

Islam's holiest shrine, the Kaaba, is getting a new setting so that the increasing numbers of pilgrims to Mecca can fulfill their sacred duty more easily.

The Kaaba is a cube-shaped, basalt structure that stands in the open courtyard of Mecca's Great Mosque, the National Geographic Society says. According to tradition, the shrine was built by Abraham at the command of God.

The east corner of the Kaaba preserves the Black Stone, a meteoric rock that Arabs considered sacred long before Mohammed founded Islam. The stone has been worn smooth by the kisses of millions of reverent pilgrims.

The Saudi Arabian government has begun a multi-million-dollar project to enlarge the Great Mosque to accommodate the ever - growing crowds.

Draped in gold - embroidered black cloth, the Kaaba is an imposing sight against the background of whitewashed buildings that rise in tiers beyond the mosque. This site is the focus of attention of all devout Moslems. Wherever they may be, they kneel in its direction to pray five times a day. Mosques everywhere are scientifically oriented toward the Kaaba.

King James I, who ruled over England from 1603 to 1625, was a strong foe against smoking. He at one time wrote of it: "A custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in the black stinking fume thereof, nearest resembling the horrible Stygian smoke of the pit that is bottomless."

Labor Party Wins

Wilson Is New British Premier

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party ended 13 years of Conservative rule today by winning control of the House of Commons—but by a slim margin which can mean trouble ahead.

Harold Wilson, who wants to abolish Britain's independent nuclear deterrent, led his party to victory and becomes prime minister. At 48, he is the youngest one in the 20th century.

The retiring prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, 61, went to Buckingham Palace to present his resignation to Queen Elizabeth II.

At the time, vote tabulations showed Wilson's party with exactly half the 630-member House of Commons, but with other winning seats to be reported. Wilson was forecasting "just a bare majority."

Returns from 621 of 630 parliamentary districts with the net changes in seats won:

- Conservative 301, loss 54.
- Labor 315, gain 56.
- Liberal 5, loss 1.
- Others 0, loss 1.

Jo Grimond's small Liberal party could wind up in a balance of power position in the new House convening Nov. 3.

Grimond said he would be willing to cooperate with the Laborites to get a government going if the Liberals and Laborites reached an understanding.

Grimond did not say what his price would be.

Many of the districts late in reporting the outcome of the voting Thursday have been in the Conservative column for generations.

Despite the Laborite gains, Conservative headquarters refused to concede. Results from Tory strongholds later today were certain to cut into the Laborite margin.

Computers and political experts, however, forecast the final result would show a thin Labor margin over the Conservatives of 17 seats in the House of Commons. That would be enough to make Wilson Britain's first Labor prime minister in 13 years. But it would be a far cry from the commanding majority of more than 90 seats the Conservatives had in the last Parliament.

If Labor's margin falls below 17 seats, the party would find it difficult to govern effectively. Every major government decision is subject to House of Commons vote, and defeat means automatic resignation and new elections.

To Meet Advisers, Red Ambassador

Johnson Schedules Talks On Sudden Soviet Shift

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson scheduled meetings today with top advisers in the Soviet field and with the Soviet ambassador later to discuss the sudden shift in leadership which brought an end to Premier Khrushchev's rule.

The meetings were additions to the President's previous schedule. There was no immediate word whether the President had summoned Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin or whether the meeting had been requested by the Soviet Embassy.

The future of U.S.-Soviet relations was thrown into a state of uncertainty by the shifts in Soviet leadership and President Johnson said the Kremlin development may or may not be a sign of deeper turmoil and changes to come.

But, the President said Thursday night in a New York speech, turmoil around the world would only increase the steadfastness of the American people.

"We do not want to bury anyone anywhere and we do not intend to be buried ourselves," he said. "We will be firm, but we will be restrained. We can meet any test but our quest is always for peace. We must keep our eyes on the stars, but our feet, both of them, on the ground."

Johnson's running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, told newsmen he did not think the Kremlin leadership change would bring any quick summit meeting with Johnson.

Humphrey expressed the view that it's up to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other diplomats to sound out the new policies in the Kremlin — if there are any.

Speaker Weighs Hammondville's Water Proposal

HAMMONDSVILLE — The number of requirements for extension of water system from Toronto to this area has apparently ruled out the proposal for the immediate future, it was indicated at a public meeting Thursday night.

About 50 attended the session at the Methodist Church at which a representative of the Wheeling Engineers of Wheeling listed the seven requirements for the water service plan.

The project, which would cost over $1 million and would need an annual income of $24,000 to pay off, would require participation of the Stanton Local schools and area industries.

However, the schools are already served by the Irondale system, and several brick yards have their own water supplies, it was pointed out.

The community water service proposal included New Somerset, based on a current extension of the Toronto system to Knoxville.

Teachers Will Begin Series Of Workshops

LISBON — The first of a series of eight workshops for the four county schools districts—Beaver, Fairfield - Waterford, Southern and United — will be held Tuesday at United Local School, northeast of Hanover, for all first grade teachers, according to Robert Carter, chairman and principal at Fairfield school.

First grade students at the four schools will have a holiday Tuesday and teachers will meet from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. for the workshop.

The workshop for second grade teachers will be held Thursday at Rogers School and their students will be dismissed for the day.

150 Attend BPW Guest Night Featured By Fashion Show

Sportswear, casual and formal attire were shown at the "Autumn Fantasy" fashion show presented for the annual Guest Night observance of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday at the Mary Patterson Memorial Home about 150 attended.

Mrs. Mary Lou Springer was commentator for the clothing provided by the D. M. Ogilvie Co. Mrs. Louise Lawton, music instructor of Wellsville High School, provided piano background music.

Models were Terry Sprague,

Alyce Mathias, Jeanne Copenhaver, Kay Simpson and Cindy Morgan, of the East Liverpool High School Nike Club, and Mrs. Helen Moore, Mrs. Ruth Ritson, Mrs. Eva Mills, Mrs. Eileen Brown, Miss Catherine Franzetta, Mrs. Mildred McKim, Miss Grace Woodward, Mrs. Evelyn Fletcher and Mrs. Margaret Worthing, club members.

Mrs. Jayne Kata presented vocal selections during intermission with Mrs. Lawton accompanist.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president, extended the welcome and introduced Carroll Hill of Carroll Hill Associates, who spoke on the survey club members are conducting to assist the City Planning Commission.

The event was arranged by the civic participation committee with Mrs. Carolyn Mountford, chairman, and the legislation committee with Mrs. Mary Walrath, chairman.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table decorated with a fall flower arrangement and lighted tapers in yellow and orange. Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. Moore presided at the silver tea services.

Miss Helen Auld, treasurer, presided at the registration desk. Favors were date books.

Games Slayer, 'Father Of Fiber Glass,' Claimed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Games Slayer, known as the "father of fiber glass" and a top official of the Owens-Corning Fiberglas Co. since its founding, is dead at 67.

Slayer, a pioneer in the fiber glass field and directly involved in its initial development, died of an apparent heart attack in the terminal of Port Columbus Airport Thursday night.

He reportedly had just arrived at the airport on a flight from New York, where he had attended a meeting of the Directors of Industrial Research.

Slayer, whose home was his estate, Locust Grove Farms outside Newark, was a native of Argos, Ind. He graduated from Culver Military Academy and was awarded a bachelor of science degree in chemistry from Purdue University in 1921.

He joined the Owens-Illinois Glass Co. in Toledo in 1931. When the Owens-Corning Fiberglas Co. was formed as a separate company in 1938 as the result of his efforts in the field, he became vice president in charge of research and development, a post he held until his retirement more than a year ago.

Today fiber glass is used in more than 30,000 applications in homes and industry.

City Lists 4 Mishaps

2 Charges Filed Following Crash

A 21-year-old Fisher Park man was cited on two charges by police Thursday after a collision between his truck and a woman driver's car on the River Rd. near the Walnut St. railroad crossing.

The mishap involved a 1963 van - type truck operated by Richard R. Harris of S. Surrey Rd. and a 1958 two-door sedan driven by Emma R. Pacey, 71, of 1730 Maple St., Wellsville, of officers said. It was among four city mishaps overnight.

THE WOMAN said she halted on the River Rd. to yield the right-of-way to the truck as it turned off the crossing. The truck crossed the center line and hit her sedan, causing heavy damage to the entire right side, officers said.

Harris reported he was turning from the crossing onto the River Rd. and was "nervous" because it was the first time he had driven the truck. As he made the turn, he was unable to straighten the front wheels, striking the car, he said.

There was minor damage to the left front fender of the truck, owned by the 7-Up Bottling Co. of Youngstown, police said. The mishap was timed at 10:48 a.m.

Harris was cited on charges of driving left of center and operating a motor vehicle without a license.

When Harris failed to appear for a scheduled hearing this morning, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ordered a warrant issued for his arrest. Harris had posted a $57.50 appearance bond, but the judge refused to forfeit it.

"This man is charged with driving without a license and the court wants to know why," the court commented.

A 16-YEAR-OLD driver also was cited as a result of another mishap Thursday in the 1000 block of Dresden Ave., officers said.

The collision involved a turning 1954 sedan driven by the youth, K end a 11 Wilkinson of Westfield, and a southbound 1954 convertible operated by Raymond L. Hoffman, 34, of Canton, police said.

Gilkinson told police he was making a left turn and did not see the oncoming Hoffman car. He was cited to Juvenile Court for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Hoffman said the youth pulled in front of his car. There was damage to the right front of Hoffman's car and the right fender of the Wilkinson auto, police said. The crash was timed at 11:54 a.m.

No one was injured in two minor mishaps late Thursday afternoon and last night at E. 5th and Walnut Sts.

A COLLISION at 5:15 involved a halted 1959 auto driven by Joseph R. Hager, 23, of 310 Summit Ln. and a 1964 panel truck owned by the Montgomery Ward & Co. of E. 5th St. and operated by John T. Curran, 26, of Pittsburgh. Hager was halted for a traffic light when his auto was hit on the left rear fender. Curran told police as he approached the light he decided to change lanes and in the process the truck bumped the auto.

A mishap at the same corner at 11:19 p.m. involved a 1959 convertible driven by David R. Buchheit, 21, of Dewey Ave. Ext. and a 1955 sedan operated by Danny S. Galloway, 19, of 527 1st Ave., officers said.

Bucheit, pulling out from the traffic signal on E. 5th St., said Galloway made a turn off Walnut St. into his path. Both drivers claimed the traffic light was in their favor, officers said.

One-Night Limit On Summitville Trick Or Treat

SUMMITVILLE — Council Thursday night set a one-night "trick or treat" visitation for Halloween Oct. 30 in the village.

The restriction for one night was established for the protection of youngsters and convenience of householders.

Advertising for bids was authorized for about 200 feet of steel wire fencing for the basketball courts. Bids will be opened at the next meeting Nov. 19.

John Kosko, who recently opened a farm equipment concern, requested drain pipe for the entrance for a driveway to the business. Council approved the request for the pipe, which he will have installed.

It was reported repairs have been completed for Spearman St. and Nittany Dr. Bills totaling $687 were paid. Thomas Sevek reported he will not be able to handle ashing of village streets for the winter as he did last year.

Mayor Ernest Phillips said anyone interested in the ashing job may make application to him.

Ruritan Supports Southern Local's 2 School Levies

SALINEVILLE — The Southern Local School District's proposed 8.8-mill levy on the Nov. 3 ballot was endorsed by the Salineville Ruritan Club at a meeting Thursday night at the St. Patrick's Catholic Church Parish Hall.

About 20 attended the meeting at which Mrs. Joan Dixon, clerk of the Board of Education, discussed the levy—a combination of a proposed 4.4-mill renewal and a new 4.4-mill levy. She spoke of the district finances and the need for more operating revenue.

The group also discussed plans for a Christmas party with other organizations in the community.

Plans were made for repairs of a basketball backboard and lights at the court at the athletic field. Members expressed the hope better care will be taken of the equipment by young people.

Karl Lindner, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be Nov. 19.

War Memorial Planned By City Veterans Group

A permanent war memorial will be erected on the site of the present honor roll at City Hall, it was decided at a meeting of the Veterans City Council Thursday night at City Hall.

Plans for a Veterans Day dinner and parade also were discussed.

The dinner will be held at 6 p.m. Nov. 11 at St. Aloysius School with the parade at 8. Units desiring to participate in the parade may contact Mrs. Mary Wines, secretary-treasurer.

A special meeting will be held Nov. 5 to make final arrangements for the dinner and parade.

James Cregar, chairman, presided. Prayer was offered by Helen Jones, chaplain.

Salem Kiwanis Gives Awards To 4-H Clubs

SALEM — Cash awards totaling $85 were presented to three area 4-H clubs Thursday noon at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Memorial Building.

A $50 prize went to a first year boy's club, Born Aml of Valley in Butler Township. Dwaine Eick is advisor. The Butler Sew Merry Club was given a $25 award. Its advisors are Mrs. Charl Thomas and Mrs. Wayne Herron. A $10 prize was given to the Try, Try Again Club of Salem Township, whose advisors are Mrs. Edward Wilhelm and Mrs. Duane Bricker.

The club presents the awards annually to outstanding 4-H organizations in Perry, Salem and Butler Townships.

50th Anniversary Marked By Mr., Mrs. Ray Brookes

MR., MRS. RAY BROOKES

Buffet Dinner Party Marks Their 50th Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brookes, 1986 Lisbon St., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a buffet dinner party Wednesday night.

They were married Oct. 14, 1914, by the Rev. George Shaffer, pastor, at the New Cumberland Congregational Church. Mrs. Brookes was the former Ruth Barnhart.

Both were born in East Liverpool and are 68.

Brookes has been superintendent of the decorating department of the Homer Laughlin China Co. for 45 years.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Letty) Duffy of Riverview St., and Mrs. Robert (Dorothy) Brown of Belmar St. There are three grandchildren.

Covers were arranged for 15 at the table centered with a floral arrangement. They received gifts and cards.

Women's Group At Newell Holds Election Of Officers

Mrs. Leonard Copestick was elected president of the Women's Association at the Newell First United Presbyterian Church Wednesday night.

Others named were Mrs. Donald Thornberry, vice president; Mrs. Charles Stewart, secretary; Mrs. Helen McClain, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Doane, program chairman; Mrs. Charles Haddock, World Service, and Mrs. Robert Carnahan, overseas sewing chairman.

Officers will assume their duties Jan. 1.

The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Harry Lytton.

Mrs. Charles Haddock was in charge of the program on the theme, "New Views from Purdue," and played recordings of speakers and music at the second national meeting of United Presbyterian Church Women. Additional plans were made for the Wheeling Presbytery workshop Wednesday at the Newell church.

Plans also were made for a rummage sale Nov. 30-Dec. 5 at the Ewing building in Chester.

Mrs. Myrtle Lytton of English Center, Pa., was a guest.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Waldo Hall and Mrs. Thornberry. Flowers and fall leaves in a brass bowl flanked by yellow tapers formed the centerpiece.

A thank-offering service will be held at the meeting Nov. 11 at the church.

Officers Elected At Newell Meeting Of Area Rebekahs

Officers were elected at the fall convention of District 1 of the Rebekahs Thursday at the Newell IOOF Hall, with the Newell lodge as the hostess group. About 90, representing six lodges, were present.

Mrs. Verda Church of Weirton, district deputy president, presided, and officers elected included Mrs. Thelma Pettit of New Cumberland, vice president; Mrs. Mary Paisley of Chester, secretary, and Mrs. Florence Phillips of Newell, treasurer.

A forenoon coffee hour was held at 9:15 o'clock and the hostess lodge seated the district officers, after which the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Church.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Jennie Ralmond, noble grand of the Newell Lodge. A devotion service was conducted by Rebekah Lodge 42 of Colliers, and the response was given by Mrs. Patricia Staley, noble grand of Rock Springs Lodge 244 of Chester.

State Assembly officers introduced included Mrs. Thelma Morrison of Buchannon, president; Mrs. Glendora King of Metz, warden; Mrs. Neva Thorne of Fairmont, secretary; Mrs. Genevieve Anderson of McMechen, chaplain, and Mrs. Bernice Skiles of Weirton, outside guardian.

Reports were given by the hostess lodge, Rhododendron Lodge 11 of New Cumberland, Naomi Lodge of Colliers, Star of the Valley Lodge 73 of Weirton, Three-Links Lodge 242 of Follansbee and Rock Springs of Chester.

Mrs. Connie Sloane reported that the district donated $387 to the Cancer Fund in the last year.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock at the Newell Presbyterian Church and the afternoon session began at 1:30 o'clock.

A memorial service for deceased members was conducted by Star of the Valley Lodge.

Each lodge gave a brief program, and veteran members were honored and given a corsage.

Donations made included $10 for United Nations Pilgrimage, the IOOF Home at Elkins and also the Educational Foundation.

The hostess lodge presented the officers with gifts. The meeting closed with a friendship circle and the singing of "Bless Be the Tie That Binds."

any of the exhibitors, and if such payments were made by them directly, I would have expected them to notify me."

Another affidavit signed by five exhibitors asserted none paid any sum for pinball machine licenses during 1963 or 1964, either to the mayor or any other city official.

THE REPORT described rumors that Logan at one time was the distributor, but not within the past two years. "It is apparent Logan did have some connection with the machines, in view of the fact that during this audit period payments on the exhibitor's or operator's license fees were paid by or through him."

"No definite information or statement was forthcoming as to who was the distributor or actual owner of the machines in operation. It is evident that considerable laxity or careless enforcement of the pinball machine license ordinance existed for some time prior to April 30, 1964."

The examiner reported a detailed check of the mayor's records showed net overpayments of $53 on traffic violation fines and underpayments of $215 on various license fees, receipts and traffic penalties, for a total overage of $161.

THE EXAMINER said upon informing Mayor Daugherty of the finding, he promptly paid the sum.

Chief Hephner also promptly paid the $10 found in error on the police department monies, the auditor said.

Band Group Supports Southern Local Levy

Southern Local Band Boosters voted unanimous endorsement of the school operating levy on the Nov. 3 ballot and contributed funds for its promotion at a meeting Thursday night at the high school on Route 39 near Salineville.

Later, two more city-owned lots at 3rd and Market Sts. were metered and then the city acquired the former Ceramic Theater on E. 4th St. and converted the site to parking.

Another proposal for off-street parking also is under consideration.

In mid-August, W. Leland Thompson offered to sell the city for $8,500 the site on E. 3rd St. at Crook Alley and E. Church Ln., which he has acquired. It is occupied by a former orthodox synagogue. As an alternative, Thompson offered to rent the property to the city for $65 a month, with an option to buy after five years.

Guild At Georgetown Hears Convention Report By Rector

The Rev. Philip Schaefer, rector, spoke on the General Convention in St. Louis at a meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Georgetown Tuesday evening with Mrs. Parkley McHaffie, Mrs. Walter Allison as assistant hostess.

It was announced that double grave stones had been placed at the Georgetown Cemetery for two lifelong members. The stones were a project of the guild.

An organ light has been placed in the church in memory of Miss Myrtle Kinsey.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Curtis Finley. Mrs. Samuel Laughlin, president, conducted business.

Miss Amy Mackall and Miss Marlene Decapio have been named collectors for the Georgetown area for the United Fund drive. Georgetown's share is at $50.

59 Attend Dinner Event Ex-Girl Scout Group In Reunion

Mrs. Mary Musuraca, chairman, at right, greets Mrs. Adam Tecca of Warren, who traveled the farthest, as Mrs. Thelma Snediker, left, and Mrs. Louise Dotson look on, at the dinner reunion of former Girl Scout leaders Wednesday night at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville. Among the 59 present were those who served from the early 1940's to 1960, when the Council was disbanded.

Recognition was paid Mrs. Dotson, Mrs. Snediker and Mrs. Tecca, who were among the earliest leaders in the Tri-State area.

Each leader introduced the person seated beside her and gave a brief resume of her former Girl Scout activities and her present ones.

A memorial candle was lighted by Mrs. Musuraca in honor of the late Mrs. J. A. Bryan, Mrs. Albert Pittenger, Mrs. Charles Nortrup and Mrs. George Bourne.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president of the East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls, extended congratulations on behalf of the founders of the program for the many years of community service.

Mrs. Eugene Seeley screened slides of former area programs. Mrs. Jean Russell led group singing. Group pictures were taken.

Table decorations featured replicas of the early Girl Scout leader's hat filled with yellow mums. Favors were miniature hats filled with yellow mints.

The committee included Mrs. Dalmas Curtis, Mrs. James McKinnon, Mrs. Frank Reed and Mrs. Dan Henderson, East Liverpool; Mrs. James Myler, Calcutta; Mrs. Carl Morgan, Wellsville, and Mrs. Charles Taylor, Chester.

A second reunion will be held in 1965.

Rogers Boy Fined In Hit-Skip Case

An 18-year-old Rogers area youth who failed to stop after a collision on Route 7 Thursday was fined and given a suspended jail sentence by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine yesterday.

Kenneth Artrip of Rogers R. D. 1 was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon for leaving the scene of an accident.

Officers said his car and one operated by James A. Dickey, 22, of Columbiana collided on Route 7 about a mile south of Route 14.

Both cars were headed south when Dickey, in a 1963 sedan, started to pass Artrip — in a 1955 sedan — just as the latter began to pass a vehicle ahead of him.

The patrol said Artrip failed to stop after the collision—which caused minor damage—and was later apprehended.

Judge Arfman fined him $50 and costs and sentenced him to 30 days in jail and suspended his license for six months. The judge suspended $15 of the fine and the jail term.

Political Writer Dies

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Fred Arnold, 83, who retired in 1958 after 62 years as a political writer and editor, died Wednesday. Arnold had been a political editor of the Los Angeles Herald-Express, now the Herald-Examiner, for 31 years.

Health Board To Meet

LISBON — A discussion of the plumbing code will highlight a meeting of the Columbiana County Health Board Monday night at 8 in the Courthouse.

Dr. Merle Singer, health commissioner, will present monthly reports and the board also will discuss a three-day sanitarians' meeting scheduled Nov. 4-6 at Bowling Green State University.

Where Fund Dollars Go

An autographed flag of the Camp Fire Girls is examined by Beth Anne Sevy of Maple Dr., Calcutta, whose sister was among those who marked their names on the flag during camp this summer.

The Camp Fire Girls program, one of 12 United Fund organizations in the East Liverpool area, was launched here in 1963 to provide for training and development of girls seven through 17 as future career women, mothers and homemakers.

Special attention is given to citizenship, service and individual achievement.

A total of 873 girls are registered in 53 groups which have 144 leaders, assistants and sponsors. There were 226 girls in the camp sessions at Echo Dell, the primitive camp site of the organization.

The local Council has eighteen groups of Bluebirds, girls in second and third grade; 23 Camp Fire units for girls in fourth through sixth grades, six Junior High groups and six Horizon Club units for high school girls.

Offices of the Council, which has been allocated $10,500 by the United Fund, are located at 517 Broadway, with rooms for conferences, training and business sessions. A fulltime administrative secretary is employed to assist the 42 board and committee members, along with an office secretary.

In addition to Camp Echo Dell, the Council also operates the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville for training sessions, winter camps and a summer recreation program.

Volunteer workers provide the leadership and planning for the program in this area, designed to assist girls in learning the responsibilities of maturity and understanding of the world about them.

Campaigns In Farm Belt

Goldwater Blasts Farm Policy Of Administration

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today "there just are no simple solutions to the mess . . . in agriculture" and the present administration should be "honest enough to stop trying to patch up a worn-out program."

The Republican presidential nominee, in a speech for the National Corn Picking Contest, added: "We must seek the best ways open to us to bridge the gap between the controlled agriculture we now have and the free agriculture we must move toward."

The speech came as Goldwater plunged back into the Midwest farm belt — where he campaigned Tuesday and Wednesday — after a quick swing into Texas. He stopped at Sioux City, Iowa, before coming to the corn picking contest.

The Sioux Falls speech was billed by Goldwater aides as a major farm speech.

But the speech contained few specific programs and concentrated heavily on criticism of Democratic farm policies.

Goldwater pledged to call on the aid of people who know agriculture.

"My secretary of agriculture will be a man with experience in farming, a man who knows what it's like to plow a furrow and to have dirt on his hands," Goldwater said. "He will not be a defunct governor, trained as a city lawyer and looking for a political handout."

As he has previously, Goldwater pledged to "seek out the advice of farmers and farm organizations across the country, to find ways to make a sound and healthy transition away from controls."

The Arizona senator, who has called for an end to farm price supports, repeatedly reassured farmers this would be done gradually, denying he favored an immediate end to them.

"I will never jerk the rug from under the American farmer," he said. "We must not scrap existing programs until we are sure we have something better to substitute for them."

Goldwater promised to work toward "a free and prosperous American agriculture."

United Fund Seen Lagging At Midland

With several divisions unreported and results to date only 58 per cent completed, the Midland Area United Fund Drive is lagging, Charles Kurcina of Ohioville, campaign chairman, reported.

The drive had anticipated 60 per cent achievement this week. Kurcina urged chairmen and solicitors to give a 100 per cent effort in all phases.

He said, "The 50,000 people helped annually by the United Fund's 43 agencies depend upon our help. Our new target is 90 per cent achievement of our $59,788 goal by our next meeting."

To date, pledges for the Midland drive total $34,598.60.

So far, there have been no reports from the attorney, real estate, government, transportation and Ohio View and Meadowbrook residential solicitations.

The first to achieve 100 per cent of his goal is Charles L. Finley of Midland, chairman of the Public Service Division, with a goal of $475. He was presented a trophy by Kurcina.

The standings of other divisions are: Manufacturing, $33,385 or 66 per cent; special gifts, $30.00 or 23 per cent; medical-dental, $240 or 74 per cent; clubs and organizations, $65 or 43 per cent; building trades, $170 or 20 per cent; retail trade, $75 or seven per cent; Midland residential, $46.50 or 12 per cent; Industry residential, $51 or 17 per cent, and education, $135 or 12 per cent.

The next report meeting will be Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Music Forum in Midland High School.

Pitcher's Uncle Killed

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Clifford P. Chance, an uncle of Los Angeles Angels pitcher Dean Chance, was killed Thursday when the tractor he was driving was struck from the rear by a semi-trailer rig along U. S. 250 northwest of New Pittsburgh, police said. Chance, 48, lived in Wooster.

Heights Mothers Will Fete Pupils

Plans for a Halloween party for the pupils were outlined at a meeting of Pleasant Heights Mothers' Club Wednesday afternoon. Twenty-five attended.

The party is set for Oct. 30 and room representatives appointed to supervise include Mrs. Betty Harris, Grade 1; Mrs. Paul Hermann, 2; Mrs. Robert Blankenship, 3; Mrs. Noreen Dickey, 4; Mrs. Betty Sweezy, 5, and Mrs. Gale Meriman and Mrs. Nancy Gill, 6.

Mrs. Eileen Seckman, Mrs. Dickey and Mrs. Mary Ellen Wheeler were appointed as a committee to purchase serving trays, kitchen towels and dishcloths for the school kitchen.

Mrs. Barbara Sisley, president, presided and announced that a bake sale will be conducted at the school Nov. 3, Election Day.

A social hour was held and Mrs. Karla Barrett was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Eileen Seckman.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12 at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Marilyn Russell and Mrs. Pauline Anthony as hostesses.

Young GOP Club Elects Officers

Officers of the Young Republican Club were elected at a meeting Tuesday night at the GOP headquarters.

Ron Tullis was named president with Richard Call and Rosemary Hayes as vice presidents; Janet Brokaw, secretary, and Lorna Elliott, treasurer.

The advisers are Donald W. Elliott and Larry Walton.

Tullis also appointed committee chairmen — Carol Jack, membership; Richard Call, program; Jane Raley, social affairs; Carolee Turner, publicity; Mike Anderson, campaign, and Hal Ball, constitution and by-laws.

The club, composed of East Liverpool, Beaver Local and Wellsville High School students, will meet each Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. until the election. Application has been made for a national charter.

The club also is making plans to hear Sen. Goldwater speak Saturday in Youngstown.

Key Club Endorses Beaver Local Levies

Endorsement of the proposed Beaver Local School District levies in the Nov. 3 election was approved by the high school Key Club Thursday.

Members will distribute literature on the levies at the football game with East Palestine Saturday night, and distribute ABLE brochures house-to-house with the Student Council and women of the district.

The club will sponsor a hat check for the Democrat dinner at the high school Oct. 24 and a Republican dinner Oct. 28.

Cards World Champs, Smack Yanks In Finale, 7-5

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer ST. LOUIS (AP) — The New York Yankees hit most of the home runs. The St. Louis Cardinals got most of the timely hits. The Yankees made mistakes. The Cardinals took advantage of the breaks. The American League champions lost their pitching ace, Whitey Ford, after the first game, with an arm injury that was kept secret until the final game. The Cardinals' pitching ace, Bob Gibson, performed brilliantly in an iron-man role. This, in a nutshell, is why the Cardinals are the champions of baseball today after having won the seventh and final game of the World Series from the Yankees 7-5 Thursday. This is why the Cardinals maintained their unblemished record of never having lost a full-length World Series. It was their fifth such series victory, their seventh in 10 post-season classics and their third in five head-to-head meetings with the Yankees. And how the victorious Cardinals and the near-capacity crowd of 30,346 at Busch Stadium whooped it up after Gibson had ended the game by disposing of Bobby Richardson on a soft popup to second baseman Dal Maxvill. Trumpets blared, horns tooted, partisan St. Louis rosters shouted themselves hoarse and hundreds poured out on the field as the deliriously happy white-uniformed players jumped all over each other. The players embraced Gibson, who had literally pitched his arm off with only two days rest. They hugged Manager Johnny Keane, who finally had a world championship after 27 years of managing. They hugged Ken Boyer, whose big bat had been instrumental in all three run-scoring innings. They hugged Maxvill, the utility infielder who had done such a fine job filling in for the ailing Julian Javier. They hugged catcher Timmy McCarver, the Cards' most consistent and outstanding hitter in the series. They hugged Butch Yatkeman, the little clubhouse man, who has been with the club longer than anybody else. They hugged each other. It was the biggest day of the city of St. Louis has enjoyed since they last won a pennant and a World Series in 1946. All six previous games were wrapped up in Thursday's finale. As before, the Yankees hit more homers, made more errors, while the Cards got the timely hits and took advantage of the enemy's lapses. The Yankees slammed three home runs, by Mickey Mantle, Clete Boyer and Phil Linz. But they committed two errors and were guilty of other loose play which does not show in the box score. The Cardinals, on the other hand, hit two home runs — by Lou Brock and Ken Boyer — but erred only once and played daringly, aggressively and smartly. They out-hit the Yankees by only 10 to nine, but turned seven of their hits into runs. On the other hand, the Yankees failed to score in the first five innings although they had five base-runners against Gibson. They failed to take advantage of an error by shortstop Dick Groat that filled the bases in the second.

Mel Stottlemyre, the young rookie right-hander, also working with just two days rest, kept pace with Gibson for three innings. In the fourth, however, he was betrayed by a teammate and the Cardinals quickly took advantage to pile up a 3-0 lead. There were runners on first and second with nobody out when McCarver hit a potential double-play grounder to Joe Pepitone. The first baseman's throw to Linz forced Groat but the shortstop's relay sailed past Pepitone and Boyer scored on the error. Mike Shannon followed with a single and there were runners on first and third with one out. Then came the play that proved to be the turning point of the game. With Maxvill at bat, the Cards successfully pulled off a double steal. McCarver scoring. A pair of errant throws by catcher Elston Howard and second baseman Richardson made the daring play work. It also put Shannon in position to score the third run on a single by Maxvill. "I didn't see McCarver break for the plate," Richardson later explained. "If I'd seen him, I would have moved in 10 feet in front of the bag and McCarver would have been out by 10 feet." Oddly enough, as Manager Keane disclosed later, a double steal had not been intended. "It started out as a hit-and-run and ended in a double steal," said Keane. In the seven games, the Yankees outscored the Cardinals, 10 to five but also outscored them, nine to three. In addition, they had several other mental lapses such as Mantle being caught off base, Mickey also thrown out trying to stretch a base hit, and Ford cut down by yards at the plate.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY Sports Editor Assuming a victory over Salem and a loss to Alliance in the last two contests, the next three games on the Potters' 1964 schedule stack up as important contests. What East Liverpool does in the next three outings can make or break its season. The Potters have cracks at victory in each of the three, beginning tonight with Steubenville Big Red. Next week it will be Martins Ferry, which is having an in-and-out season, then the following Friday night it will be Weirton, which has experienced a few setbacks in the campaign. Coach Bob McNea in his first season here has experienced more than his share of injuries to key personnel. And it all started on the opening kickoff in the first game. That's when fullback Bob Woods twisted his knee and left the Potters without a big power runner. Woods is wearing a cast on his leg now. It is to be removed in the next few weeks. A knee operation may be ordered then. At any rate, he is lost for the season. The same holds true for Ralph Smith, a replacement at halfback who became a regular in the Midland game. Smith suffered a deep leg cut at Steubenville Central and also appears to be out for the remainder of the season.

WE SAT in on the Steubenville Central-Niles game last Saturday night and the question of who was the better team was answered. The final score was Niles 34, Central 6. After a close first half Niles broke things wide open in the third quarter and left little doubt of who was superior. Buster Yannon, Central's great back who had rushed for more than 800 yards in four games, was stopped cold. The husky Niles defenders held Yannon to a net of 36 yards rushing on 12 carries. We still feel Yannon is a good football player, but found himself up against the best Saturday night.

CALLING THE shots this week, Big Red hasn't shown much in the way of an offense so far and we like the Potters tonight by a touchdown. Mingo Junction should continue undefeated when the Indians meet Wellsville. Mingo by a pair of TD's. Oak Glen is our pick again. After a layoff of one week, the Golden Bears should be eager to send Follansbee down to defeat. Oak Glen by two touchdowns. It looks like Midland will win its second game tonight at Rochester, by a good margin this time. Stanton Local gets the nod over Springfield Local of Mahoning County, while Canton Timken should spill Salem. In Tri-County battles tonight, Sebring looks a touchdown better than Lisbon and Leetonia should nip Columbiana. Saturday we will take Rey Dempsey's East Palestine unit over Beaver Local by three touchdowns or better, while United should run by Jackson-Milton. Laurel is our pick over South Side and Southern Local to rebound and trip Crestview.

JOHN MARTIN, Wellsville's fine all-around athlete, will be sidelined this week when the Wheeling Ironmen meet Grand Rapids at Island Stadium. John Henry had his best night in pro ball last week when he scored three touchdowns in Wheeling's victory over Joilet, but an old knee injury has put the halfback out of action at least for this week. DON JACKSON'S Rossford team won its fifth straight game and jumped to 17th in the state grid poll this week.

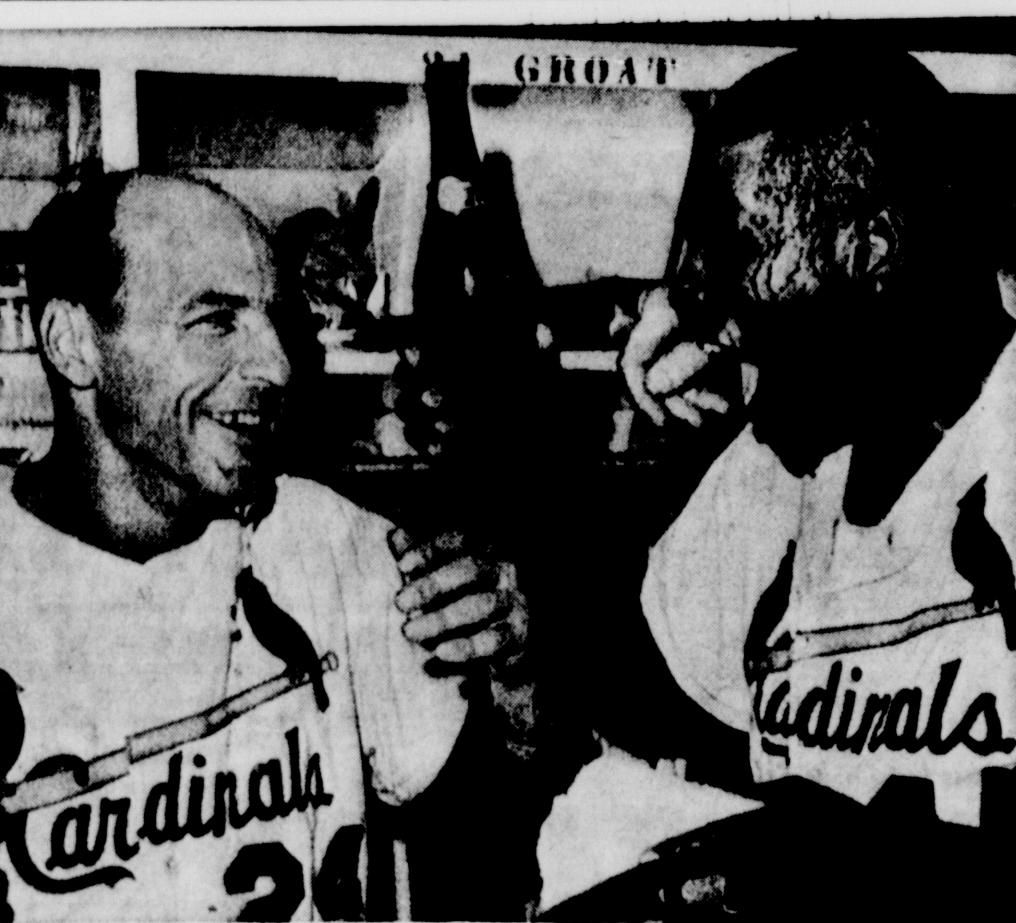

Waited 35 Years On This, Keane Says After Victory

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer ST. LOUIS (AP) — Johnny Keane's cup bubbled over with cheer. After 35 years in the St. Louis Cardinals organization, most of them in the minor leagues, he was on top of the heap, manager of the world champions. As recently as Aug. 23, Keane and his Cardinals were struggling along in fourth place, 11 full games behind the Phillies who were ready to print World Series tickets. It was not until the final day of the season that his Cardinals climaxed their charge by winning the National League pennant. At once, they were established underdogs to the mighty New York Yankees. "I waited 35 years for this," Keane said quietly in the midst of unrestrained joy in the Cardinal clubhouse after their 7-5 seventh-game victory. Champagne dripped from his greying head and streaked his haggard, deeply lined face. "That's a long wait but it's worth it." This was the end of a thrilling suspense story. In mid-August, Gussie Busch fired his general manager Bing Devine, because he was not satisfied with the ball club. It went without saying that Keane, a Devine man, would be lucky to finish the season. When the Cards spurred, reports that Loe Duerocher would manage the club next year began to spread. No new contract was offered Keane until the final week of the season. When the offer came, John calmly said, "Let's wait until after the season." When he won the World Series his future still was unsettled. On July 6, 1961, Keane took over from Solly Hemus as manager of a sixth-place club.

Breaks 61-Year-Old Strikeout Mark

Gibson Voted Outstanding Player, Sets New Record

By MIKE RECHT Associated Press Sports Writer ST. LOUIS (AP) — Right-hander Bob Gibson is a former pro basketball Harlem Globetrotter who's still a cut-up. He's seldom serious — always ready with a quip. "I hope you have a bad day," he grinned at Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre, when photographers asked them to pose before Thursday's World Series game. But when the teams took the field, it was a different Gibson — a serious, intense tall man with a job to do. The fireballing right-hander kept the New Yorkers swinging wildly for five innings while his teammates built up a 6-0 lead. And Gibson, who went 10 tough innings Monday in a 5-2 Cardinal victory at New York, held on for the 7-5 edge Thursday that made the Redbirds world champions. Gibson set the World Series strikeout record by fanning nine Yankees for a total of 31 in the Series, breaking the mark of 28 set by W. H. Dinneen in 1903. He won the last two games for the Cardinals in the Series and was named the outstanding player in the Series, which won him a 1965 auto. But afterward, Gibson was his usual self. "It's nice to know I set a World Series strikeout record," he told reporters, "but I'd rather have the money."

Berra Has Highest Praise For Card Pitcher Gibson

By TOM PENDERGAST ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals celebrated their first World Series championship in 18 years with champagne and sweat Thursday, and the New York Yankees met the press like winners. "What are my plans for the future?" mused Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane, whose job had been reported in jeopardy toward the end of the Cards' surprising season. "Right now, I just want to keep my future limited this afternoon to the sight of my ball players enjoying all this."

Even Battle Is Predicted Between Potters, Big Red

East Liverpool makes its second appearance of the season tonight at Steubenville's Harding Stadium and the Potters hope the outcome will be different. East Liverpool played Steubenville Central three weeks ago and came out on the short end of a 42-18 score. ANOTHER even battle is predicted tonight with the Potters seeking their fourth win as against a loss and a tie while Big Red will enter the battle with a 3-2 mark. Steubenville has been shut out twice this season and will be attempting to bounce back from a 58-0 rout by Massillon last week. Girard also held the Big Red scoreless, 34-0. IN FIVE games, Steubenville's offense has clicked for only 37 points in recording three victories. Big Red defeated Weirton 6-0, Cleveland Glenview, 7-0 and topped Pittsburgh Schenley, 24-8, in the mud.

Indians Expected To Decide Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians board of directors was expected to decide today whether the Tribe will remain here or move to another city. The directors will receive from Club President Gabe Paul a report regarding his recent trip to Seattle, Oakland, Calif., and Dallas. The three cities have indicated the Indians are welcome. At their previous meeting Oct. 6, the directors postponed a decision. The American League club's attendance has dropped off in recent years and Paul said the Indians lost 2 million over the past two years. Cleveland Plain Dealer sports editor Hal Lebovitz said in this morning's edition the odds are one-sided that the Indians will remain. He said the directors are pleased with the success of the Cleveland Growth Board project to sell 4,500 season tickets by Dec. 1. The board says it has sold 2,000 season tickets already. Also, Mayor Ralph S. Locher said, "I have a hunch the Indians will stay" after he met with four Tribe directors and city officials at City Hall. City Council President James Stanton restated Council's position, which would give the Indians a one-year lease, with option to renew. The lease provides for a minimum of $1,200 rent per opening, or 6 per cent of the gross, whichever is higher. The city would pay for all the stadium help. Stanton said the city also would spend $1 million on stadium improvements, with 80 per cent being returned to the city by the Indians if they do not pick up their option in 1966.

Americans Boost Collection Of Olympic Medals To 39

Cawley, Tyus Take Hurdle, Sprint Events

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor
TOKYO (AP) — Rex Cawley, so excited he forgot the pain in his leg, and Wyoming Tyus, a world record-holder who wasn't supposed to win, raced away with two more gold medals to today as the United States continued to add to its collection of Olympic trophies and titles.

Cawley, who had been troubled with a leg injury during the semifinals, finally found himself on the way home and won the 400-meter hurdles, the sixth straight time a Yankee runner had taken that particular Olympic title.

And Miss Tyus, who matched the world record of 11.2 seconds in the qualifying rounds of the women's 100 meters Thursday, took the final by about two yards over her Tennessee State teammate, Edith McGuire, who had been favored.

Those victories, along with some surprise help from a couple of American marksmen, increased the U.S. medal collection after six days of the 18th Olympiad to 39 — 17 gold, 11 silver, 11 bronze.

Russia, which hasn't shown the strength expected, has 25 — 7 gold, 7 silver, 11 bronze. The Russians picked up only three today. The United States added five.

Miss Tyus a slim, 19-year-old co-ed, took the lead 10 meters out and raced away from the others with every stride as she succeeded another Tennessee State product, the great Wilma Rudolph, as queen of the Olympic sprinters.

Miss McGuire was second in 11.6, and it was almost a U.S. sweep. Poland's Wera Koldoukowska was third and Marilyn White of Los Angeles fourth, both in 11.6.

The medals in the hurdles and women's 100 were the only ones for the United States on the program of five track and field finals, but Army officers Lones Wigger and Tommy Pool gave a lift in shooting.

Wigger, a first lieutenant from Carter, Mont., took second in the small-bore rifle prone position and Pool, a captain from Groom, Tex., was third behind Hungary's Laszlo Hammerl. Wigger scored 597 of a possible 600 and Pool 596.

Other track winners included world record-holder Peter Snell of New Zealand in the 800 meters, defending champion Jozef Schmidt of Poland in the triple jump and Mihaila Penes of Romania in the women's javelin. The United States was blanked in all three.

Royals Open Saturday On Hawks' Court

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Jack McMahon says "our title hopes are bright" as his Cincinnati Royals embark on their 1964-65 campaign in St. Louis Saturday night.

The Royals open their National Basketball Association season against the St. Louis Hawks. The season opener in Cincinnati Gardens is Sunday night against the San Francisco Warriors.

Asked if he thinks the Royals are as good as the showing they gave in racking up a 12-2 exhibition record, McMahon said: "We're strong, there's no question about it. When we're rebounding, running and getting down on the break, we're as good as anybody that ever played the game."

As good as Boston? "I thought we were last year," he said, "but you don't beat them with a weakened club."

Last year the Royals were bounced out of the playoffs by the Boston Celtics, four games to one, after Cincinnati had taken the season series from the Eastern club.

McMahon says he is counting on a much-improved Jerry Lucas, the Ohio State All American who was NBA rookie-of-the-year last season.

Luke is more confident, smarter, more offensive minded and his last year's hesitations are gone, McMahon said.

Green Bay Gets Nod Over Colts

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
Green Bay faces its fight for survival in the Western Conference of the National Football League Sunday when Vince Lombardi takes his Packers to Baltimore where the Colts have been chewing up all opposition. After last week's 4-6-1 record, the batting average shrunk to 30-20-4 for the season (18-14-3 in the NFL and 12-6-1 in the AFL).

Here goes again: (All games Sunday afternoon unless otherwise noted)
NFL
Green Bay 20 Baltimore 17—Colt ground game in high gear but they will have problems containing rushing attack of Paul Hornung. Could be a field goal game. Look for Colt let-down with second game in six days.

Detroit 20, Chicago 14 — Lion defense to contain Bill Wade's passing while Detroit grinds out victory in a tight one. Bears will be tough after getting back on win path with Mike Pyle and Larry Morris due back.

Cleveland 24, Dallas 14 — Cowboys in trouble with Don Perkins out of action but loss of Ross Fichtner and possibly Frank Parker weakens Brown defense. Jimmy Brown due for a big one.
New York 21, Philadelphia 14

AFL
Boston 24, Oakland 13 (Friday night) — Pats to bounce back from first defeat by Chargers with enough to handle winless Raiders who still groping for the answers.
New York 21, Houston 17 (Saturday night) — Improved Jets' defense makes return of Sammy Baugh an unhappy visit. Jets coming off a big win over Oakland and Oilers off 48-17 bombing by Buffalo.

Buffalo 24, Kansas City 21 — The Bills have won five in a row and handled the Chiefs in their last meeting.
San Diego 28, Denver 17 — The Chargers finally have their offense healthy. That should be enough to end Mac Speedie's one-game winning streak as new coach of the Broncos.

Salem Whips East Junior Eleven, 16-0

Salem scored in the first and third periods to hand East Junior High a 16-0 setback Thursday afternoon on the East End gridiron.

In addition to the two TD's, the young Quakers had two other touchdowns called back.

East threatened late in the game having a first and goal situation on the Salem three but the Quaker line stiffened to hold the Panthers scoreless.

The loss was the second in three games for East.

The annual East Junior-West game will be played next Thursday at 4:30 at Patterson Field.

Monday, East Junior's eighth grade nipped Wellsville, 8-6 with Keith Burke scoring the touchdown and conversion for East. Thomas tailed Wellsville's touchdown on a five-yard run.

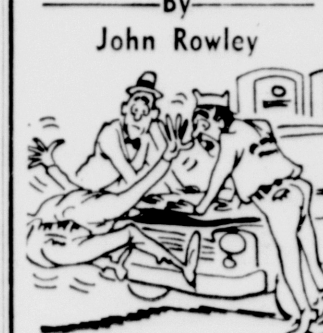

Sikes' Record 62 Leads Golf Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Young Dick Sikes was at the top of the pack today in the $70,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament after setting a course record at the Paradise Valley Country Club.

He shot a nine-under-par 62 Thursday, two strokes under the record set last year by Bob Harrison, in the opening round. The course measures 7,069 yards with a par 36-35-71.

As the second round began, Jack Rule and Tommy Aaron were three strokes back of Sikes, and the pre-tournament co-favorite, Arnold Palmer, was tied at 67 with George Bayer and Tommy Jacobs.

Texas, Arkansas Clash In Battle Of Unbeaten

By BOB HOOBING

Associated Press Sports Writer
Arkansas has readied a hostile Marshall Plan for Texas and Phil Harris, a leader of the nation's top-ranked football band.

Southwest Conference supremacy and the Longhorns' 15-game winning streak are among the stakes in the collision of unbeaten at Austin, Tex., Saturday night.

If the eighth-rated Razorbacks' hopes for a major upset are to be realized, quarterback Freddie Marshall is the key.

Texas wingback Harris makes the Longhorn power sweeps go with his blocking but also is a ball carrier with a 54-yard average, the team's leading receiver and the deep man on kicks.

Coaches Darrell Royal of the Steers and Frank Broyles of the Porkers, longtime friends, have concocted special defenses for the other's ace.

Amid a heavy concentration on conference action this weekend, Ohio State's No. 2 Buckeyes play host to Southern California in the nationally televised headliner. And UCLA, still reeling from the thumping administered by Syracuse, tackles fourth-ranked Notre Dame.

Florida State, 10th in the latest poll and owner of the stingiest major college defense against scoring — 1.5 points per game — meets Georgia of the Southeastern Conference. The Seminoles stunned Kentucky 48-6 a week ago.

Ohio State is eager to avenge a 32-3 loss to USC a year ago which knocked the Bucks from the unbeaten ranks they now occupy again and spelled the worst beating in the 14 years of Woody Hayes' direction.

In the SEC, third-ranked Alabama invades always-tough Tennessee without star quarterback Joe Namath, who received a twisted knee against North Carolina State.

Louisiana State, just beginning to find the end zone with its new flanker offense, goes against a Kentucky team out to prove it can bounce back from the Tallahassee murder. The Wildcats are 2-0 in the circuit along with Florida compared to Bama's 3-0.

Florida has a nonconference date with South Carolina.

Fifth-ranked Michigan draws the Big Ten's best defensive club, Purdue, in one of several major battles. Defending champion Illinois, fighting for survival in the race, takes on Minnesota and surprising Iowa invades Wisconsin.

These other games involve conference leads:

Atlantic Coast — North Carolina State at Duke.

Southern — West Virginia at Virginia Tech; Citadel at William & Mary.

Third In Quota Series

Travelogue To Picture Himalayan Native Life

"Hunza Land," an adventure travelogue, will be presented by Renee Taylor as the third in the Travel and Adventure Series of the Quota Club Tuesday at 8 p. m. at Westgate School.

Renee Taylor, noted author and world traveler, will screen the colorful story of a little-known Shangri-La and its amazing people, the Hunzas, in the Himalayas.

A resident of Beverly Hills, Calif., recently took a 25,000 mile world-encircling trip to and from Hunza Land, high in the Himalaya Mountains. She is one of the few women who have braved the perilous journey, over narrow mountain paths, with 16,000-foot chasms on either side to reach Hunza.

She produced a documentary film of a "Garden of Eden" and also was co-author of the best seller, "Hunza Land," for which Art Linkletter wrote the introduction. She has recently appeared on many TV shows.

"Hunza Land" is an area of the world that inspired James Hilton's famous novel, "Lost Horizon." Postage-stamp kingdom within Pakistan, it has been isolated from the civilized world for over 2,000 years, and few people of the outside world

Crucible Boosts Price Of Agricultural Steel

Crucible Steel Co. has announced an increase of 5 to 10 per cent in the price of some special agricultural steel products sold to farm equipment manufacturers, which was effective Wednesday.

"These selective increases, our first on this line since 1958, are being made to partially offset increasing material and labor costs occurring during this period," said W. B. Jones, product sales manager at the Pittsburgh offices.

River-Lake Road Plan Discussed For Kiwanis

Completion of the planned Lake Erie-Ohio River highway (Route 11) is slated by 1971, Atty. Francis Lang, member of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Lang, a member of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce highway committee, and E. R. Chandler, executive secretary of the Chamber, presented a program on highway plans at the meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

Lang traced the development of the river-to-lake road plan between East Liverpool and Ashtabula, of which a number of sections have been completed, including two Freeway links here.

With the use of maps, he outlined the next construction steps of the route. Plans call for building an extension from Route 170 to relocated Route 267 south of the present Route 7 intersection.

Although bids were scheduled to be sought by November, not all the rights-of-way have been secured, and bid action is now not expected until next January.

A public hearing is scheduled Tuesday at Lisbon on the following section which will extend from relocated Route 267 to Lisbon.

The subsequent construction will be a section from Lisbon to the Mahoning County line between Columbiana and Leetonia.

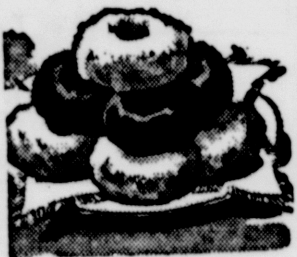

The whole route will be a limited access highway, with intersections in southern Columbiana County at W. 8th St., Route 170, Route 267-Route 7, West Point and Lisbon.

Lang said highway officials have predicted all contracts for the entire length of Route 11 will be let by 1969, with construction work to be completed by 1971.

He also spoke briefly on the construction of four-lane sections of Route 7 south of East Liverpool, saying the improvement from here to Bellaire should be completed within seven years.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Hunting season is here which means one fight after another. I don't mean just for a few days, either. I could stand that. These fights go on for months.

I've discussed the problem of the "Hunting Husband" with other wives and here are the techniques we have all tried—along with the results:

1. Put your foot down and say, "No. You can't go AGAIN and leave me and the children." They go away.
2. Be nice about it and send them off with a big smile. They take advantage and go twice as much.
3. Go along. Impossible. No woods are big enough for a husband and his wife. The woods are plenty big enough for a man and 17 club members, however.

Another thing our husbands have going for them is an eight-room clubhouse. They tell us to be sure and pack their best dress slacks and sport shirt in case they decide to go to town for a night.

So what's the answer, Ann?—HOPELESS BATTLER.

Dear Hopeless: Widows of The Hunt are not going to win this battle, so accept the inevitable. Your best bet is to keep busy while your husbands are out killing those lovely brown-eyed deer, themselves and each other. (You heard me.)

Get together for pot - luck suppers. Do your back letter writing. Wax the floor. Clean the closets and drawers. Read those wonderful books you haven't had time for. KEEP BUSY.

Goat With A Gripe

Dear Ann: A married man with a girl friend usually has three or more good reasons why he can't leave his wife "at present."

The married man I've been going with for six years insists he never will cheapen our relationship by giving me excuses. All he says is, "We'll be married eventually. Have faith."

His children are almost grown. Their college education is assured. His business is thriving. His wife gives him no static. He does as he pleases—no questions asked. We've been together almost every evening since 1958.

Am I supposed to be satisfied because I can see him whenever I want? It's beginning to look like a pretty weird setup and I'm the goat.

Breaking off is out of the question. He refuses to give me up. He watches every move I make, so there's no chance of meeting anyone else.

The only solution is to leave

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Any Overweight Can Lose 10 Pounds

"With 60 pounds to lose, the road ahead looms so long," a homemaker writes wistfully.

To shorten the road, put it in perspective by focusing on a near goal. Let your first goal be for a 10-pound loss.

This approach adds a fillip to the venture. It does much more than that, for Ida Jean Kain, each separate success provides heartening proof that you are on the right road to ideal weight and a trim figure.

Where to start: Decide at which meal you are prone to overeat and make that the first point of attack. If you habitually go overboard at the evening meal, plan to keep your dinner-meal calories strictly to 450.

IT'S AN almost constant finding that overweight individuals tend to overeat at dinner. Be in-the-know on calorie timing. The oft heard lament, "Everything I eat turns to fat," is a fabrication. It's overeating that is fattening, for the overload is converted to fat.

It is an excellent plan to cut ahead of hunger by having a purposeful pick-up in the late afternoon. Keep the pick-up to 100 calories. Have a cup of tea and an ounce wedge of cheese; a glass of buttermilk, cocoa made with skim milk; or a snack of left over lean meat.

The balanced, low calorie protective diet is the best reducing system found to date. Get a friendly feeling toward calories. The calorie is the measure for the amount of fuel in a given food, a meal or in a recipe. The protective plan is to choose the foods which keep the nutrients up and the calories down.

If you are toting considerable excess weight, chances are you are not in a good state of nutrition. . . not as good as the lean person. Regard a reducing regime as a chance to improve your nutritional status, and change your everyday ways of eating.

EATING HABITS can be changed, appetite grows by what you feed it. Food capacity can be diminished and in this way slimming gets easier. During the first week or two on smaller meals you will feel a little dissatisfied when you get up from the dinner table. Contrary to what you may think, you will not feel hungry all evening. In thirty minutes you will feel content, and happier than if you had overeaten. Give it a try! Stop overeating and you stop wanting to overeat.

With 10 pounds off, set your next goal at six more pounds off. . . and one dress size smaller. Then tackle the second stage. Move toward your goal in steps.

Send stamped, self-addressed long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder how many people have thrown away their rubber dish racks and drainers because they couldn't get them clean? Well, a friend from Germany showed me a wonderful way to clean them. Take a small amount of bleach, put it in a dish and, with a cloth, wipe the surface of the drainer, let stand about a minute, then rinse. You may have to rub heavily soiled spots, or might have to reapply. You'll be surprised at the results. It's wonderful.

MRS. RON CALDERON

Be sure to rewash the drainer with some vinegar water after it is cleaned. But the idea works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I solved a long-standing problem in my household . . . how to anchor the bottom of my top sheet so it would not pull out when tucked under the mattress. I took a piece of quarter-inch elastic and cut it four inches shorter than the width of the hem and ran it through the small hem in the bottom of the sheet.

Then I sewed the elastic at each end of the hem (not all across it) and, presto . . . a neat bed and no more trouble with the sheet pulling out.

BELLE

DEAR BELLE: You sure rang a bell when you hit upon this one.

For years I have been making my own sheets. I have tried mitering corners, inserting elastic, leaving 12 inches extra to tuck under and now you come along with this idea!

You are a darling! My top sheets did slip off the bed, were hard to tuck under if the corners were mitered as that little bit of elastic in each corner was hard to stretch, but the dynamic part of your idea is that there is no effort when putting the sheet on the bed as you have so many yards of sheet and elastic to stretch . . .

I immediately got out a sheet and measured off some narrow elastic (I cut the elastic six inches shorter instead of four) and threaded the elastic on a safety pin through the narrow bottom hem.

Then I put the sheet on our bed. It's fantastic! So easy. Those who would like to try this . . . could use a safety pin to hold each end of the elastic in the sheet, and if they didn't like it, all they would have to do is to remove the safety pin, pull the elastic out, and they would be back where they were before they started.

Another thing I just thought about is that if (and it might) the sheet begins to show wear you can later remove this elastic and put it in the top hem! Reversing the sheet will give it longer wear.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell housewives to cut pizza with a pair of kitchen scissors instead of a knife. Not only does it prevent scratching the pan, but it is much easier, and for some reason, the cheese doesn't stick to the scissors the way it does to a knife. Slices beautifully! (I dip my scissors in hot water or grease them with bacon fat before using this method but it is not really necessary.)

inch plastic bottles that our medicines come in these days are just the thing for the children's lunch boxes. They will hold four or five olives, or a pickle or two, without allowing the juice to run on other things in their lunch box.

I used to use baby food jars, but they are easily broken by the children.

Young Completes 16-Hour Trip In Six-City Stop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young arrived back in Columbus late Thursday night from a 16-hour campaign trip through Ohio which covered more than 400 miles and included stops in six cities.

The Ohio Democrat, running for re-election against Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, held four press conferences and gave two addresses on the tour, part of which was made in a helicopter. His stops included Steubenville, Bellaire, New Philadelphia, Uhrichsville, Newark and Cambridge. He also was to make an appearance at East Liverpool, but fog prevented his helicopter from landing there and it set down at a rural airport from which Young drove to Bellaire.

His topics at his stops covered a variety of subjects.

Geneva Will Observe Annual Homecoming

BEAVER FALLS — Geneva College will observe its 40th annual homecoming Saturday.

Open house will be held in dormitories and other campus buildings from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.

The homecoming parade will begin moving at 12:45 p. m. and will wind up in Reeves Stadium, preparatory to the Geneva-Juniata football game.

During half-time, Miss Sherry Donnelly of Wellwood City will be crowned homecoming queen.

Middletown Man, 40, Admits 37 Burglaries

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police say a 40-year-old Middletown man, James F. Harkins, has admitted 37 burglaries, most of them in doctors' offices in Springfield, Hamilton, Kettering, Dayton and Cincinnati. Officers said they found a knife and $2,339 in Harkins' pockets when he was arrested Thursday. He was charged with possession of burglary tools and carrying a concealed weapon.

Rail Merger Largest In U.S. History

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 98-car coal train bound for Sandusky pulled out of the Columbus yards at one minute after midnight today, signifying the largest railroad merger in U.S. history — the new Norfolk & Western Railway system.

The train, pulled by three diesel-electric powered locomotives, was cheered by 100 railroad men as it moved out of the N & W yards, passed over a switch and onto the Sandusky line—one of six rail lines involved in the giant merger.

At the same time, a train was leaving Fort Wayne, Ind., for Bellevue, Ohio, over the tracks of the Nickel Plate and Wabash railroads, two other lines which are among those forming N & W's new 7,800-mile, 14 state system.

The merger was authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission after 4½ years of negotiations among the railroads involved and the commission.

Also involved in the merger are the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railway and the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad.

They have been combined into a $1.9 billion transportation system operating in 14 states and the province of Ontario, Canada, and makes the N & W the only railroad serving the Atlantic Coast all the way to points on the Missouri River. Cities hooked up by the rail complex include Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Des Moines, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Norfolk and Pittsburgh.

OFF THE RECORD

Face-Lifting

The mighty earthquake that shook Alaska gave the nation's biggest state an unexpected face-lifting.

Studies made by the U.S. Geological Survey in the months following the cataclysm on Good Friday, 1964, show that some 12,000 square miles of southeastern Alaska rose and remained eight feet above old levels.

Conversely, a 35,000-square-mile region around Kodiak and Anchorage sank two to six feet, the National Geographic Society says.

"Like a gigantic hinge, the earth moved upwards southwest of the hinge line and downward to the northwest," explains Arthur Grantz, geologist of the Geological Survey.

The strongest earthquake to shake North America since 1899 had even more dramatic impact on Montague Island in Prince William Sound.

This uninhabited island some 100 miles from the focal point of the quake shot up more than 30 feet. A surrounding strip of sea floor was left high and dry. Measurements of Alaska's upheavals and subsidence show spectacular effects in localized areas along major crack lines. The bottom virtually dropped out of two ports. Seward's harbor, normally 30 to 120 feet deep, sank to levels ranging from 390 to 450 feet deep. At Valdez, the sea bottom slid out into the channel, deepening the port by as much as 150 feet.

Odd Facts

During Cornwall's golden age of tin two centuries ago, some 2,000 mines penetrated the rocky soil of England's southernmost county. Today only two mines are operating.

Glacier National Park in Montana has 1,000 miles of zigzagging trails for hikers and horsemen to a wilderness roamed by bear, mountain goats, deer and moose.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAP

QUESTION: What is soap made of and how does it work?

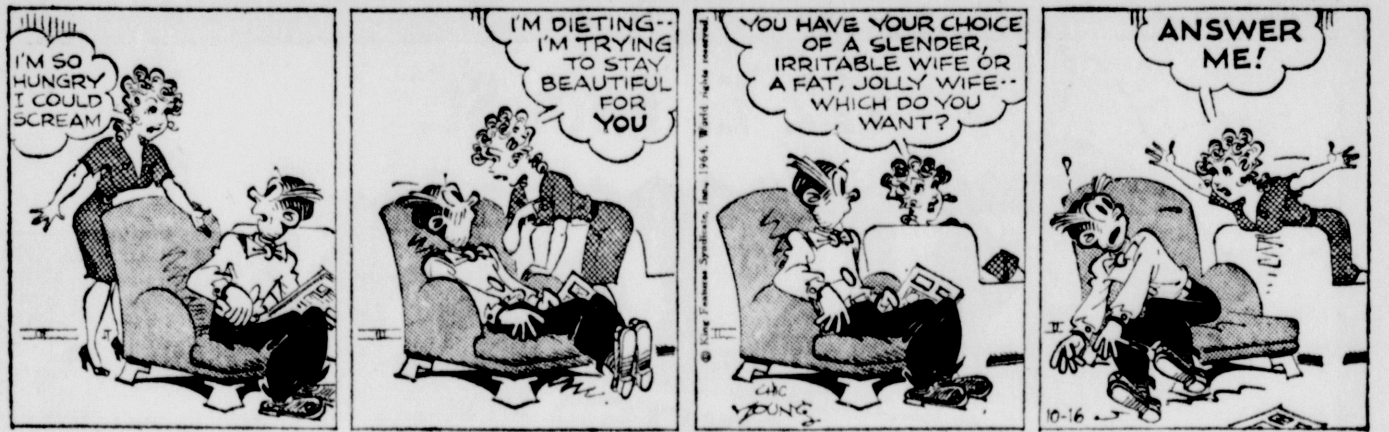

ANSWER: Ordinary soap uses fats and oils from such sources as we show in the illustration. These are boiled with alkalis, which are chemical compounds. A legend about the origin of soap tells about a man in ancient Gaul (France) who had made a hairdressing compound out of goat oil and beech tree ashes. When he got caught in a rainstorm, lather formed in his hair and he discovered its cleansing action.

Although experts do not understand everything about how soap works, they explain its main action like this: the surface of water has a kind of skin or "surface tension" which tends to prevent it from penetrating greasy, dirty substances. Soap in the water loosens the surface tension and makes it wetter, so it gets down and breaks up dirt. Soap also breaks up grease and oils into particles, and a layer of soap molecules surrounds each particle, keeping it separate so that rinse water can wash it away. Soap suds absorb some of the dirt and your own rubbing helps greatly to loosen dirt so it will float away down the drain. Modern detergents may use some different chemicals, but they work in much the same way.

FOR YOU TO DO: Put a drinking glass in the kitchen sink and fill it with water from a small pitcher. When the glass is full to the brim, very carefully add a little more without spilling. You will see the water curve up above the brim. The surface tension we mentioned is holding it this way.

Diane Schriefer of Baltimore, Md., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.
